ROGERS AGAINST FORCING HOOVER TO FISH UNTIL MARCH

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—They are already claiming it's against "precedent" and, that, Hoover shouldn't enter Washington while Coolidge is a "head man."

Well, I'm with Hoover. He fished all the way to South America and all the way back. Now they want him to fish till March. Any guy that can fish over a week and be satisfied is not the one we want for president.

This busy man's vacation is a lot of "baloney" anyhow. The bigger he is the less he enjoys a vacation. It's always a bird that never does anything that enjoys a vacation.

There is nothing in the world as hard as playing when you don't want to.

Yours, WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

If you notice, each month the public library advances many times the circulation in the same months in former years. People seem to be reading more, or else they are getting the books merely to set off new end tables and other furniture in a mode.

Pa News has been reading a book on and about Houdini. He is one man who in later years will be a hero to more than a few. If you want several hours of enjoyment as well as instruction, get the book about him at the public library.

In two weeks, the New Castle annual auto show will begin. There will be in the neighborhood of 100 cars at the show, accessories, entertainment and people. Last year's thousands are expected to be duplicated this year and the committees in charge are sparing no expense.

The Legion, so it comes to Pa News, put the national commander's banquet over. Every one knows that from a program point of view it was a knockout but then there is always the finances. James Cole, sitting over piles of ticket figures yesterday, made a complete check back on every ticket and blinted to Pa News that the Legion banquet had also been a financial success.

Stuffy. It seems to be warm but the ice and snow still remains on the highways at various points. The ashes placed there by the state department have been worn off many times, but the ice still remains hard.

Alec Duda of R. D. 9, which happens to be out on the East Byway road received a present yesterday from 144 eggs in the way of 110 little chicks. Mr. Duda believes that this is the greatest number of healthy chicks to be hatched thus far in the year.

Chimney Burning
Out Calls Firemen

Alarm From Box 42 Summons Apparatus To Home On Pearson Street

Firemen answered a call to the home of Vincenzo Penco, 614 Pearson street, at 6:40 on Thursday evening where they found the chimney of the home burning out. Slight damage resulted from the fire. It was caused when the soot ignited and caught the boards which close the front of the grate on fire.

The alarm, sent in from box 42, called the engine of the Fourth Ward department and Truck 2 of the Central department to the scene. Both were back in service at 7:15.

Scioto Street Boys Entertained

Thirty-five boys of the Scioto street Indian club were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, of Phillips Place. Mr. Thomas is Y. M. C. A. boys secretary and adviser to the club.

During the evening, songs and stories before a huge grate fire and refreshments constituted the program.

MAN BEATEN TO DEATH IN BOX CAR

Find Man's Body In Railroad Car At Junction Here

Officers Believe He Was Struck Over Head In Attack

MURDER VICTIM WORKED ON SECTION

Few Details As To Occurrence Found As Yet By Officials

Charles Porbon, believed to be an Austrian, about 35 years of age, was found murdered in a box car on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie sidetracks at New Castle Junction this morning. Discovery of the body was made by George Helfferman, commissary boss at the Junction, about eight o'clock.

Helfferman notified the police department and Coroner J. P. Caldwell. County Detective William G. Fleming and Corporal Joseph F. Schmidt of the state police were called and made an investigation.

Worked on Section
They found that Porbon had been working for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad company on a section gang for a short time, and bunked in the box car where his body was found. The men who live in the box cars take care of them. This car had in it four bunks, located in the four corners, the bunks being the long way of the car, which was headed north.

Porbon was found lying at the foot of one of the bunks, his head toward the south and resting on an iron crossbar attached to the legs of the bunk. The body was lying face upward with the man's right side against a box which was standing at (Continued On Page Two)

Plan To Revise Coal And Iron Police System

State Will Demand Death Penalty For Three Police Men Accused Of Brutal Killing

GOVERNOR FISHER INTERESTS SELF

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—Spurred by the support of Governor John S. Fisher, the movement to revise the coal and iron police system in the present session of the state legislature gained momentum today while District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner laid the groundwork of a fight to send to the electric chair the three Pittsburgh Coal company guards who beat John Borkoski, a miner to death.

The governor's statement in revoking the commissions of W. J. McGee, Harold P. Watts and Frank Slavakis, that "the viciousness of the system consists of the surrender by the state into private hands of police power." Gave further support to a well grounded report here that the administration will approve a bill of the type proposed by State Senator W. D. Mansfield of McKeesport, providing for rigid supervision of the coal and iron police system.

Meanwhile District Attorney Gardner reviewed all the evidence in the case and announced that he would fight for a first degree murder conviction for the three guards.

After a conference between the district attorney's staff and county detectives, it was decided to turn all evidence over to Coroner W. J. McGee, with the result that the latter set next Tuesday morning for the formal inquest into the fatal beating of the miner.

MARS BUSINESS BLOCK IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 15.—Fire which today forced three families to flee in their night clothing, resulted in almost total destruction to half a business block at Mars, near here. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

The flames soon got out of control and aid was summoned from five nearby volunteer companies. The blaze started in a restaurant over which a Mrs. Huggins occupied an apartment. She fled and sounded the alarm. Grant Groom, wife and child, and W. L. Shannon, wife and child were aroused and escaped before the flames reached their apartments.

Fire fighting companies from Valencia, Evans City, Elma, Wexford and Zelienople aided in getting the conflagration under control.

Measure Against Inferior "Gas" Is Framed By Ederer

Representative Ederer, Montgomery County, Sponsors Gasoline Sales Bill

WOULD REQUIRE RIGID ANALYSIS

Bill Aims To Rid Pennsylvania Of "Bootleg" Gasoline; Is Favored Generally

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff
HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—"Bootleg" gasoline in Pennsylvania will become a memory if a bill introduced in the house of representatives by Representative Clarence L. Ederer, Montgomery county, is enacted into law. The bill is now in the hands of the judiciary special committee of the house awaiting action.

Committee concerning the sale of inferior grades of gasoline and super-powder fuels in several parts of Pennsylvania have prompted the Montgomery county member to introduce the measure in the interest of motorists and other owners of combustion engines.

Aims To Prevent Fraud
The bill aims to prevent fraud and deception in the sale of liquid fuels by requiring the display of a statement of the analysis of the liquid fuels being sold. Statements would be posted on every gasoline pump in the state under the provisions of the bill.

The measure defines "liquid fuels" as "all liquids ordinarily, practically and commercially usable in internal combustion engines for the generation of power except kerosene, fuel oil and gas oil and shall include all distillates of oil and condensates from petroleum, natural gas, coal, tar and vegetable ferments, said distillates and condensates being ordinarily designated as gasoline, naphtha, benzol, benzine and alcohols so suitable but not restricted to such designations."

Liquid fuels, as defined in the bill, would have to meet certain standards and the statement of analysis which would be posted on each pump would show in degrees, according to Tagliabue's Standard Registered, Hydrometric.

Drifting Vessel Reported Sighted

Drifting Abandoned Vessel Is Seen; Lone Sailor Mans Ship; Will Try For Rescue

(International News Service)
CORDOVA, Alaska, Feb. 15.—The steamer Alouay, abandoned with the exception of one man, has been located by the cutter Chelan, according to radio advices received here today.

The rest of the crew of the Alouay were taken to Dutch Harbor after an ineffectual effort had been made by the Montauk to tow the disabled craft to port.

She Chelan reported that Posey, an older, well refused to leave the Alouay could be seen walking the decks on the vessel and that a boat was being lowered to go to his rescue.

Meanwhile, the rescued crew of the Meiyu Maru, which is being pounded to pieces on the shores of one of the small islands in the Aleutian group, is enroute to Japan on the Nank Maru.

Grippe Epidemic In London Takes Thousand Lives

London Today Faces Water Famine As Result Of Continued Cold Spell

BLIZZARDS RAGING IN ENGLISH CHANNEL

Traffic Throughout England Crippled; Situation Reaches Acute Stage

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 15.—London today faced a water famine as a result of continued intense cold as the city counted 1,000 dead during the past week in a wave of grippe which has reached epidemic proportions.

Four days of a severe freeze with temperatures the lowest in many years have depleted the water supply in many sections of the city.

Train schedules all over England have been disrupted. Passenger trains have been stalled for hours at a time in huge snowdrifts.

The situation caused by the grippe epidemic is alarming. Extraordinary measures are being planned to check the spread of sickness. Grave fears are held for the public health if the water supply fails further during the epidemic.

Blizzards Raging
Blizzards are raging in the English Channel, delaying steamers to and from the continent and unperiling coastal and cross-channel shipping.

Towns along the coast have been battered by snow-laden gales and heavy damage is generally reported.

The Thames and other rivers are freezing over. Important lines of communication will be closed with the rivers blocked.

Authorities hope for a break in the cold if further acute suffering and a possibly sharply mounting death rate are to be avoided.

Slayer Of Strayer May Be In Custody At St. Louis, Mo.

Answers Description Of Man Wanted Here For Killing B. & O. Policeman

According to a letter received at the sheriff's office this morning from Chief of Police Joseph A. Gerk of St. Louis, Mo., the police of that city have a man in custody who answers to the description of the slayer of U. L. Strayer, of the Baltimore and Ohio police force on July 8th, 1927.

The man is a Negro who gives his name as Reuben Washington, alias Lee Harris "Blue". He admits that he has been twice in an Arkansas penitentiary, and at one time was confined in an institution for the criminally insane in Arkansas.

His description tallies with that of the man wanted for the Strayer murder, the distinguishing feature being a scar about three inches long on one cheek.

Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds has notified Carl Wright, of the Baltimore and Ohio police, who has been hunting for Strayer's murderer ever since the crime.

The advent of the officer evidently prevented a robbery.

Lindy Lands At Sapelo Island Makes Stop On Flight From Miami To Washington This Morning

SPENDS FEW HOURS AT COFFIN HOME

(International News Service)
SAPELO ISLAND, Ga., Feb. 15.—Nosing his way out of a murky sky, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 11:23 a. m. today to spend a few hours as the guest of Howard E. Coffin on his island estate.

A short while before the colonel landed here he passed over throngs on Sea Island waiting for his arrival. He circled the island and then proceeded toward Sapelo. He plans to stay here only a few hours, and then go on to Washington.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 15.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from the Pan-American airport here at 7:37 this morning.

It was expected he will fly direct to Brunswick, Ga., and thence to Sapelo Island to spend a few hours as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Coffin on their island estate.

If the flying colonel has the time to spend on Sapelo Island, a pleasant hunt has been arranged for him during the afternoon.

Although Col. Lindbergh himself declined to reveal his plans, advices from Brunswick said he probably would take off from Sapelo Island late in the afternoon for Washington.

The flyer is to go to Washington for several conferences with Pan American Airways officials before setting out on an aerial survey of the east and west transcontinental air mail route.

Chicago Police Seeking To Find Massacre Plotters

City, County And Federal Agencies Hunt Perpetrators Of Fiendish Crime

U. S. OFFICIAL SAYS SHOOTING POLICE WORK

Round Up Of All Criminals And Gangsters Ordered By Police Heads

By FRANCIS F. HEALY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—City, county and federal agencies plunged into the sordid maze of theories, plots and counter-plots here today in an effort to solve the horrible massacre of seven members of gangland, who met death yesterday standing in single file against a brick wall when deadly machine gun slugs tore into their bodies.

Fiendish Crime
The shooting was considered more fiendish because the slayers used the uniforms of policemen to enter the garage and disarm the victims who believed they were merely being subjected to a police examination and thus gave up their weapons without a struggle.

The key to the solution, it is generally believed, lies in the finding of George "Bugs" Moran, leader of the North Side "Mob" which was annihilated by the super stroke of gangland. Moran was variously reported in hiding, fleeing the city and critically ill of influenza.

Forty men have been rounded up and are held at the detective bureau for questioning.

Coroner Herman N. Burdese has empaneled a jury of expert business men to hold an inquest. A jury of business men and professional men also held an inquest over the bodies of Dion O'Banion, Hymie Weiss, Tony Lombardo and councilors others meeting in the end a stone wall of silence.

Prohibition Blamed
Police Commissioner Russell blamed prohibition for the massacre.

State's Attorney Swanson prepared for a conference with his first assistant, Frank J. Leesch.

Russell ordered a roundup of all criminals and gangsters inhabiting all well known saloons and gambling resorts. The Federal Government is sending assistant United States district attorneys to attend the inquest.

In gang killing there is no one who (Continued On Page Two)

We complain about the summer heat, the chill of early fall, but we keep right on complaining and it hurts things not at all. For we get what weather's sent us, rain or storm or snow or sun, and we take it as we get it, till the storm or sun is done. What we say or how we grumble helps things not a single whit, and our speeches and our breathings change the weather not a bit. So we'd better quit complaining let it rain or let it shine, weather comes as it is given, here today it's thirty-nine.

Southern Drys Refuse To Take Mellon's Offer

Southern Drys In Congress Oppose Mellon's Substitution For Enforcement
Work

SENATOR HARRIS
IS WELL PLEASED

Hope To Add $24,000,000 Dry Fund Amendment To Second Deficiency
Bill

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Southern drys in congress today refused to accept the proposal of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to raise prohibition enforcement appropriations $2,570,000 as a substitute for their extra $24,000,000 fund in the first deficiency bill.

The first deficiency bill apparently having been scuttled in conference through disagreement over the dry fund, the southern drys were preparing to add the $24,000,000 amendment to the second deficiency bill.

"I am very glad that the administration has recognized the principle of having been fighting for," said Senator Harris (D) of Georgia, author of the $24,000,000 amendment.

Harris Disappointed.
"I am disappointed that the president has not seen fit to recommend a larger fund for the purpose of real prohibition enforcement."

Senator Harris made only one exception to his attitude. If President-elect Hoover declares that he does not want the extra money for dry law enforcement, he probably will drop the fight.

Administration leaders of the house indicated that they would adopt the Mellon plan and boost the present dry fund of about $33,000,000 a year by the amount requested. Mellon proposed to give $1,700,000 to the prohibition bureau and to use the rest among other agencies enforcing prohibition.

Another proposal of the treasury as an offset to the southern drys' demand was presented to the house interstate commerce committee today.

Secretary Mellon, in a letter to Rep. Hoch (R) of Kansas, recommended legislation authorizing increase of the officer personnel of the coast guard from 455 to 538. The request was embodied in a bill considered by the house committee.

And in the event all speed restrictions for the open road are removed the only driver who will be able to move along comfortably and with perfect peace of mind will be the operator of a 10-ton truck.

ed. He's the colored caretaker at the Dwight Morrow estate.

"Nobody ever told me," he asserts. "He saw Lindbergh there on—"

James shrugs his shoulders as he stands out in the cold uncompleted back yard of the new Morrow place.

"Nothin' unusual." You see she just "grew up" before he knew it. She was a sickly child, he thinks. Three girls, one boy, she was next to the youngest, you know; he gets a bit mixed.

Anyway she had a German nurse, "Frauheim."

At Least James Says.
No she didn't have any pets. She didn't go out with young men. She liked to read. Not much on sports.

"Yet she was a hockey 'regular' at one school and played basketball at Smith."

All the saddle horses were given away when the family moved to Mexico where Dad's ambassador.

Miss Anne was born down in town. Yep, she's 22. (Lindy's 21.) Then very soon the family moved up into the hills. And last November the new house was ready.

There was a house warming New Year's eve. Lindy came.

The house is low, rambling, painted white to make it look ancient. Its simplicity bespeaks taste and wealth.

One picture Lindy nervously scrapping his snowy shoes at the front door.

Anne the Girl.
Inside was a calm girl—always kind always cheery. "real people" James says. Known for her poetry and gentleness of spirit at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., as were her sister Elizabeth and her mother.

She's a girl much like Lindy—retiring, reticent, but a doer, so "they" of Englewood say. She desired a literary career. In the last few years she has had some beautiful poetry published. It tells of reaching upward, toward the sky.

Lindbergh's figure looms tall beside hers. He looks down with case on her soft, brown, unbobbed hair.

He met her first when he flew to Mexico and was overdue. . . met her in the calm of a romantic laud.

Thence onward legend turn into fairy-tale romance. (This may not be the sequence but it's the love-tale as legend now has made it for all time.)

And This is the Story.
Lindy's car ran out of gasoline in Englewood. He inquired for the nearest garage. He was directed to it. Lo it was Morrow's private one.

Then once more we find Lindy speeding through Englewood. He is stopped by Patrolman Kerigan.

California license on the car. Late at night. Even for the rich of Englewood (for they abound there), late, Lindy was alone.

"Think you're driving an airplane?" legend has it the cop asked, all unknownst. "Give me your name."

The name? Kerigan is supposed to have thought a staggering moment, then to have declared, "I refuse to arrest you sir." Or words to that effect, words lost to antiquity.

Was it? Was it?
It probably was the night Lindy proposed. But alas even to theorize on that may be considered less majestic.

Then there was the third and last time that Lindy actually was known to have come (according to legend) that's the night he probably scraped his shoes at the front door of the new house for his car is said to have broken down in the snow some miles away and he braved in.

But did you EVER hear of anything breaking down with Lindy in it? Maybe he merely was in love.

Anyway it's the greatest thing that ever happened to Englewood. The town is so busy talking about it that it hasn't time to get its breath to answer ALL the questions.

A Breathless Interview.
Interviewing Miss Abigail M. Lane on the run she says: "I haven't time to talk . . . but Anne came to my kindergarten class in Franklin school in 1911 at the age of five . . . oh, I must hurry . . . and she was a charming intelligent, studious, normal, healthy child . . . wish I could think of more about her, but when there are so many hundreds."

And breathlessly the school officer reads Ann Morrow's permanent record card. "Kindergarten, Miss Coo's school Englewood. Miss Chapin's school, New York (president of her class); Smith college where she majored in English and won two coveted prizes for her studies. . ."

An eagerness for poetry and solitude. Dark, deep eyes.

Exclusive New England resorts. Europe, Mexico. . . Lindy. Lindy and love.

County and city sealers of weights and measures and inspectors of the bureau of standard of the department of internal affairs would be charged with the enforcement of the "better gasoline" bill.

This sealers would be empowered to make purchases of fuels sold through various pumps and samples would be analyzed by the state bureau of chemistry to ascertain whether the analysis of such samples coincide with the analysis statement displayed.

The sponsor of the bill believes that public display of the analysis statement would soon acquaint purchasers with educational facts concerning good and inferior fuels with the ultimate result that "bootleg" gasoline would drop out of existence in Pennsylvania.

can positively identify anyone as the actual slayers, police said. Witnesses there were few yesterday, saw only the forms of men committing the brutal slayings, not faces.

Knows Nothing
Even if found, it was pointed out by detectives that Moran, in true gangster fashion, would shrug his shoulders and say he knew nothing. It is generally believed he owned or operated the "cartage company" garage and warehouse where the massacre occurred but in the face of any direct evidence police would be unable to accuse him of anything.

Sought too, were the members of the Bello gang on the North Side, rivals of the Moran faction.

According to one of the heads of the detective bureau, the police do not know who directed the slayings. "Spike" O'Donnell, Capone and remnants of the Joe Salts gang still control the South Side beer and "alke" operations, working together. They also have territories on the West Side. But prior to the murders yesterday, it was not thought they were seeking to encroach upon the North Side gang. Then, too, various rumors couple the murders to a Detroit gang, but this has almost been discarded inasmuch as Chicago has its own gangsters and there apparently could be no reason for Detroit or St. Louis gangsters trying to buck such a cozy business as exists here. Chicago gangsters purchase large amounts of liquor in Detroit but that is a "working agreement," police said.

Accuses Policemen.
Chicago, Feb. 15.—A direct charge that Chicago policemen had killed the seven gangsters lined against a wall and massacred with machine guns was made here today by F. D. Sillway, deputy prohibition administrator.

Sillway made the charge after he had exposed reports made by his private prohibition agents, making an independent investigation of the horrible slaying, the worst in the history of gangland, in which the entire "mob" of George "Bugs" Moran, North Side liquor king, were wiped out.

It was pointed out by Sillway that the automobile used by the murders was a Cadillac, such as a police squad car, and that in the getaway all witnesses testified the machine had both siren and a gong.

"A squad from the bureau hijacked a load of liquor from the Moran crowd three weeks ago," Sillway charged. "That took place on Indianapolis boulevard, according to our information."

"There were 500 cases in that load and the Moran crowd was bitterly resentful."

Squad Feared Results.
"They started pressure through their political connections to force the return of the liquor and the squad was fearful of getting into trouble with the federal courts."

"Our theory is that the police squad went there yesterday to talk things over and try to get a settlement."

"The gangsters refused to talk business and the shooting followed."

"It seems strange that a crowd of hoodlums like that could all be killed without offering a shot in exchange."

"I hope to have the names of the policemen of that squad within a few hours."

"I am going to take the matter up with the state's attorney."

"We are positive the story of the hijacking is true and we are going to put all federal pressure to bear upon the situation, independent of the Chicago police department."

"There has been entirely too much activity on the part of policemen regarding violations of the prohibition law. It was bound to come to this and this is the showdown between the federal government and the city police department."

Sillway refused to amplify his charges further pending information he said he expects to receive later today.

Today

Congratulations, Colonel.
Dollar or Daughter.
Freezing Europe.
The President's Retreat.

By ARTHUR G. BRISANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Col. Lindbergh is to marry Miss Morrow, daughter of the American ambassador to Mexico. No marriage could interest or please the American people more. Many American girls from the Atlantic to the Pacific will now change their plans and select another hero for their dreams.

It is pleasing to know that the chain of Lindbergh's ancestry, stretching back across the ocean to powerful men in the north, is not to be broken.

Traveling East from Chicago on the Pennsylvania Limited, you read in Paul Block's Pittsburgh Post-Gazette the heading "DOLLAR OR DAUGHTER."

John Borkoski, who worked in the Pennsylvania mines for thirty years and was, as his wife said, "Always smiling, never hurting anybody," lay dead in an adjoining room, his body sick and battered, according to charges, by the "coal and iron police."

Mrs. Borkoski, sad but not hysterical, said: "The coal cops are always on the lookout for a man with a dollar, a pretty wife or a young daughter, some of them as young as twelve and thirteen."

Mr. Block's newspaper tells you that Allegheny legislators, "roused by the savage murder of John Borkoski, slugged and stamped to death by coal and iron police," will try to wipe out the private police system.

It would seem to be about time. Property must be protected, but what would property say if the miners organized a police force of their own with barracks, repeating rifles.

The moral is that dollars are well organized and can do what men, badly organized, cannot do.

Arguing against vivisection in Albany, Assemblyman Vaughan suggests that murderers, instead of being used for experiments, be subjected to that would be better than "putting the murderer in the electric chair." The murderer probably would think not.

Not long ago murderers, and less-criminals, especially those that had committed venial crimes, were subjected to most horrible tortures without any scientific object, beyond pleasing power, and the mob.

Even witnesses accused of no crime were tortured to make them tell what they knew. When the French Revolution stopped torture of witnesses, respectable judges said justice would be impossible without torture.

Dreadful cold continues in Europe, temperature seventy-six degrees below zero in Poland. Thirty-four cypriotes in camp near Warsaw were found frozen to death. Many children have died of cold in their beds. In Yugoslavia foxes, deer and hares, numbed with cold were easily caught by hand.

This country should be grateful for its mercies. But even here in the Northwest, as Stefanoff tells you, the temperature drops lower than it ever does at the North Pole.

After three more weeks in the white house, President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge will take the train on the afternoon of March 4th, and move to a small house in Northampton, Mass.

The president could have had four more years in the white house. He had been elected only once, and was entitled to a second election.

He chose to strain a point in the direction of the third term tradition, and retired to the height of extraordinary success in public service. In his own time he will find other important work to do. He might possibly go to the senate and teach senators to say a good deal in a few words.

On the formal announcement of the agreement between the Pope and the Italian government, 60,000 received the Pope's blessing inside St. Peter's and 200,000 gathered in the rain, received the papal benediction from the balcony of St. Peter's.

Later the King of Italy was enthusiastically applauded as he stood with the queen on the balcony of the Quirinal.

Throughout the day Mussolini did not appear in public, ignoring crowds that gathered before his palace.

He probably was thinking hard about his latest important decision.

From the white house, it was announced on Tuesday that the president "has not made a study of the agreement (between the Pope and the Italian government), but unless the rights of American property owners are affected by the creation of a Papal state, it would hardly be necessary to make a diplomatic representation to the Vatican."

That tentative decision may be reversed.

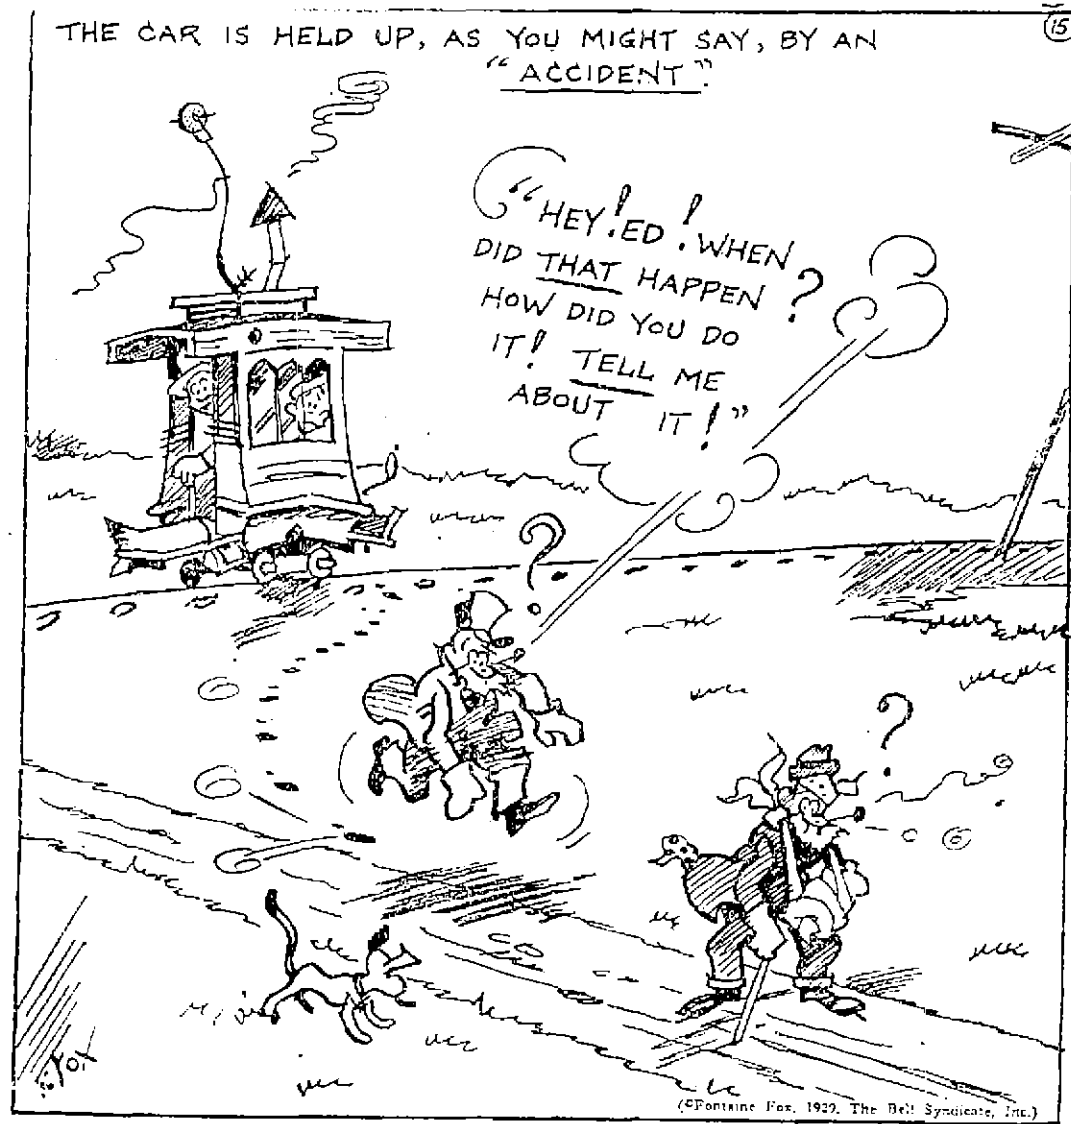

Hoover and Curtis were not officially elected until the senate and house Wednesday counted the electoral votes. Our forefathers, convinced that the people didn't know enough to elect a president, arranged to choose electors, "superior men" in each state, the electors to select a president.

That has been changed, and in November you know for whom you are voting. Conservative higher powers still feel that the people don't know enough to use their own dollars, what to do with money, supposed to be theirs. So they have a Federal Reserve Bank to tell the people what to do, and if necessary, choke them with usury until they turn in the voting direction.

Teaching the heathen to wear clothes isn't so difficult. They never seen any magazine advertisements.

Now why not sentence people for life as "habituals" when they marry the fourth time?

You can tell when you are approaching a center of culture. You begin to step on chewing gum instead of grass.

All we need to please both sides is a beverage that isn't intoxicating and yet will deliver a satisfactory kick.

LAWRENCE AGAIN
Castle Hills, Pa.
Feb. 13, 1929.

Mr. Jacob Rentz, Manager,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
My dear Jake:

My friend Fred sent me today from Miami, Fla., the land of sunshine and roses, a large sack of fancy paper shell peacocks. When you write to him kindly express devoted thanks from Matilda and myself, as it is useless to say the gray squirrels and we are having a decided feast.

I trust the beautiful women in Florida will have no effect on him. In looking them over, we have the good sensible women in Pennsylvania. Some go to Florida to get a coat of tan but here they use tanna hue, lip stick rouge and 20 inch skirts. Then we go to the state of Kentucky with the beautiful women in the mountains with the mountain dew. The mountain dew is not there any more, but the beautiful women are. Then I journey there a few times a year and Matilda stays at home. Then we go to the glorious state of Georgia where the paper shell peacocks are second to none and they ship to Florida where money is free as water and our friends who have money remembers us who do not have money. Lord, but we are grateful.

I was at Miami once and each night before I laid down I had to wire Matilda to sell a cow and send me the money by telegraph.

Yours truly,
LAWRENCE CASTLE.

It might help some to talk about the "glory" of walking and provide wound stripes for pedestrians.

The songster who promised every day would be Sunday bye and bye may have more to live seem that way on the highways.

We are a sorry lot, and half of the enjoyment at a winter resort consists in the knowledge that folks back home are cold.

Split Between Soviet Leaders
May Bring Facts About Russia

World Watches With Interest Exile In Turkey Of Trotsky While Stalin Seeks To Strengthen His Dictatorship

Leon Trotsky's exile to Turkey while Joseph Stalin seeks to strengthen his power of his dictatorship in Russia causes much speculation in the rest of the world. The consensus among American observers is that the incident is not closed and that the matter of these two former associates of the Soviet regime is likely to result in disclosures concerning Russian conditions which heretofore have been kept from the rest of the world.

A statement from Trotsky in which he visualizes a "man on horseback" improves the comment from the ALBANY KNICKERBOCKER PRESS: "Stalin is the algebric 'x' in the Russian equation. He is hailed as a man of steel, as cold and as heartless, and as a genius. Once he was quoted as saying: 'We are not forgetful of our duties abroad, but our major task is to make the Bolshevik experiment in Russia succeed.' This was construed as meaning that he would take no part in assisting revolutionary movements in other lands, but it may also mean that any opposition to the Bolshevik regime at home will be another word with an iron heel. Evidently that is what Trotsky means in his reference to the approaching struggle."

Assuming this, Stalin fears Trotsky, the CHALSTON DAILY MAIL points out that "an assassin's bullet could have ended Trotsky's life in the fastnesses of his Russian exile and the responsibility could have been placed upon a person other than the government of the United States. The probability, though, is that the American authorities feared to adopt such a course. Apparently they were convinced that followers of the deposed leader could not be fooled, and that, whatever indirect and further means might be used in doing away with the man who still is the idol of hordes of Russians, his sympathizers would have placed the blame on the central government."

"There is a kind of grim world-calm," thinks the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, "about all this patter which is being made over Trotsky. While the elder statesman all over the world raise their voices in protest against the Soviet because it is too radical, Trotsky has been plucking its leaders because they are so radical. The 'Melt' states: 'The viewpoint the revolution has taken from within and the government needs an opposition. He had undertaken to fill the role of leader of that opposition. It is a weakness of the Soviet system of government that it fears an opposition.'"

"The interlocking struggle between Stalin, the man of steel, and Trotsky, Lenin's partner in establishing the dictatorship of the proletariat," according to the WASHINGTON STAR, is "in unbroken progress. Stalin, in Moscow, is temporarily supreme. Trotsky, in exile, is nominally impotent. But the feud is far from ended. ... Perhaps the cross-currents and under-currents are more serious in their implications than crises with which other European and non-European states are familiar. Russian communism has ridden many a storm. It survived the passing of Lenin, defying predictions it could not. The world will await further shimmerings of the latest tempest within the Red republic before concluding that out of it will boil up a new Russia unnumbered with the revolutionary dogma of the Third International."

CHALLENGE TO AUTHORITY

THE unprecedented crime in Chicago, Ill., yesterday, where one rival band of gangsters invaded the hangout of another, fueling up eight of them against a wall and shot them down, is the bold challenge to law and authority that has ever been hurled by any organization in America.

It is a challenge to the police of Chicago that must not go unheeded. Members of this gang must be hunted down, no matter how long it takes.

Tolerant of such an outrage as a part of the notorious gang warfare in Chicago, is not to be thought of. Police in that city have declared war to the death on the gangs. The declaration should mean just exactly that, and with nothing less will the people of the nation be satisfied.

Gang warfare is a modern challenge to police that is a menace to the nation.

WILL COLONEL CEASE FLYING?

MILLIONS will wonder now whether Colonel Lindbergh will cease flying when he marries. We doubt that, as we doubt that Miss Morrow would ask him to do so. The air, surely, is his element; and what it means to him may be appreciated from the fact that since he started his transcontinental journey preliminary to the lone transatlantic flight in the Spirit of St. Louis, he has not used a railroad train, though he has travelled many times the distance around the earth.

And don't forget, either, that it was the air that brought Miss Morrow her shining knight, and that he carried her off for a flight through the skies on the day they first met. May it always bear them safely and happily on their way.

MR. HOOVER IS ELECTED

HERBERT HOOVER and Charles Curtis were one day this week elected to be the next president and vice president of the United States. The election took place in Washington, in joint session of the two houses of congress. The votes of the electors of the forty-eight states were read and counted by tellers chosen from the legislators present and the result was announced by Vice President Dawes. At that moment, not sooner, it became technically proper to refer to Mr. Hoover as the president-elect. That is now his status.

It was the intent of the constitution makers that the electors should actually elect the president, a function they held too delicate and responsible to be entrusted to the voters. Not within the memory of living men has the electoral college been more than a form and a name. And the president and congress actually elected in early November do not take office until four months later. And congress is not called into regular session until thirteen months later, only eight or nine months before the beginning of the active campaign for re-election of all the members of the house and of one-third of the senators.

In the day of express trains thundering into every corner of the republic and of airplanes spanning the distance from sea to sea in a day and a half, the election of a president, reminds the New York World, the induction of congress and the summoning of it in session follows the timetable made, partly by design, partly by accident, in the days of the saddle-horse, the oxcart and the river flatboat.

TEETH FOR PEACE PACT

SENATOR CAPPER of Kansas, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, complicates the armament issue a bit. He has introduced a measure which would forbid the sale of American arms and munitions to any nation going to war in violation of the Kellogg treaty, and urges other nations to adopt the same policy.

This resolution, he believes, would "give teeth to" the Kellogg pact, which as it now stands depends for its effectiveness only on the conscience of the signatory nations.

It would, indeed, if adopted and followed by the big industrial nations in spirit and letter. Modern warfare, as the World War proved, depends on enormous quantities of machine-made supplies. If the industrial nations will not sell them, most of the nations cannot fight, and even the other industrial nations will be handicapped.

Manufacturers of armament and war materials will oppose this measure, of course. Some governments will oppose it, for the sake of the profit they may make out of other people's wars, or from a desire to keep up their munitions industries for their own self-defense. But the American public might approve such a pacifist measure.

Suppose it were adopted generally, as some such measure probably will be some time—for the peace-spirit grows. There would still be one serious little joker. Who would decide what was "in violation of the Kellogg treaty"? The League of Nations might assume that. But would the United States or Russia agree?

Live and learn—how to live.

The "hit-and-run" motorist wins no parades from the grandstand.

Government under peace conditions is not very expensive, but war is.

The greater part of the task of getting ready for the next war falls on the stock.

The authoritative word from Paris for early 1929 is that legs will be about the same length.

International News Service.
DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 15.—Living on $18.29 a month sounds impossible. But it's being done in Des Moines by widows who are receiving that amount monthly from Polk county's widow pension fund.

It takes careful planning and outside work or home work is generally necessary, but in many cases $18.29 is the only income on which homes are maintained. Mrs. Ruby Tillment of the juvenile court declares: "Last year the county spent $30,750 for the aid of widows and orphans, Mrs. Tillment said."

Flick Acquitted In Bank Robbery At Pleasantville

Venango County Jury Frees
Youthful Former Bank
Cashier After Lengthy Trial

FRANKLIN, Pa., Feb. 15.—After twenty-four hours and ten minutes of deliberation a jury in county court Thursday acquitted Edmund L. Flick, youthful cashier of the Citizens Bank of Pleasantville of two charges of breaking and entering and larceny in the robbery and burning of the bank last September.

Flick was accused by Sylvester Watson, confessed robber of the bank, of instigating the burning of the bank to hide the robbery, which the negro claims the cashier also planned.

Flick's acquittal ended one of the longest trials in Venango county court annals and resulted in complete exoneration for the youth.

European Cold Wave Abating

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—The cold wave which has held Central Europe in its Polar grip for four days, moderated somewhat Thursday, but rising temperature gave way to heavy snow storms.

Nearly 50 additional deaths from cold were reported. Six persons were frozen to death in Austria; six in Hungary; 15 in Yugoslavia and 22 in Roumania.

Fresh snow, falling atop the frozen crust of earlier snows, has increased the difficulties of communication and caused added suffering to the populations.

Many rural communities are completely isolated with the prospect that the inhabitants will be snowbound indefinitely.

DRINKING DOWN THE DEW-DROPS.

Scarcely had Mother Grouse given her permission when off scurried the small partridges to get a drink and their mother and the boy hurried after them—Mother Grouse to see that they came to no harm and Peter because he was curious to find out what they were going to do. Stirring up the dry leaves as they went the youngsters did not stop until they had come to the edge of the woods. Right ahead of them the boy saw a merry little brook dancing along in the sunlight.

"Now how are those baby birds going to get a drink out of that brook without falling in?" asked Peter of Mother Grouse. Arent you afraid that something will happen to one of them? The water seems pretty deep even on the shore and just see how steep the bank is. Hadn't you better call them back?" Mother Grouse smiled at Peter and shook her head.

Now don't you worry about anything happening to the children. Do you suppose that I would stand right here and let them run into danger without giving a cluck? Those youngsters of mine are not going to drink from the brook. They are looking for drops of dew."

"That's right I remember your saying that, now," cried the boy. "But how are they going to get any dew around here? The sun has been up a long time."

"Of course it has but way down among those tall grasses are some drops that it hasn't dried up yet and my children know just where to look. Watch them! Arent they smart, youngsters even if they are my own, and it may not be very polite of me to say so?"

Smart those little partridges were.

The boy admitted it at once when he saw what they were doing. Pushing their way among the grasses carefully so as not to shake off any of the precious dewdrops they poked their little bills deep into the wet cluster and drank heartily of the sweet water. One clever fellow spied a grass blade hanging on a bending grass blade high above his reach, but he was not to be cheated of it for all that.

Hopping upon a stone nearby he raised his bill and sucked it down with a glad gurgling of triumph.

Has First Payroll Of Police Department

Chief In 1877 Received $41.66
Per Month; Officers
Got $40

Among the treasured possessions of Charles E. Patterson of 809 Chestnut street is an original payroll of the police department of this city for the month of February, 1877. Ellis Morrison was city clerk at the time and had charge of the making up of the payroll.

It shows a total expenditure of $177.93, including the salary of the chief and three patrolmen and current expense for the month.

This interesting paper shows that James J. Cook was chief of police and received the magnificent salary of $41.66 per month. The three patrolmen at that time were D. A. Frew, S. E. Kelly and J. B. White, and they received $40 a month.

This gives the average taxpayer some idea of how the cost of government has increased in a period of half a century.

Over 300 Attend First Aid Meet

Beil Company First Aid
Teams Have Final Contest;
Dance Follows

LOCAL EMPLOYEES ARE GIVEN AWARDS

Some 300 persons attended the New Castle district first aid contest meeting of the Beil Telephone company which took place at the Elks club on North Mill street Thursday evening. The contest was followed by a buffet dinner and dance.

The cable force of the company won first honors in the meet; Rochester, second; construction team of F. E. Mowry, third; New Castle fourth; J. B. Waterson construction team, fifth and Sharon, sixth place.

Each crew of five men, one of whom played the role of patient, were given no first aid materials, a first aid problem, and by a system of demerits, the winners with the highest standing at the completion of the work were given a money prize and the championship honors.

The cable force winning first honors finished with a mark of 99 per cent. The lowest percentage, made by Sharon was 94, while the district average is 97 per cent. This is probably, state company officials, one of the finest records ever made in the work by company employees.

The teams were given work in bandaging, fractures, bleeding, wounds, sprains, respiration, burns and a series of other afflictions which they might per chance encounter in their work.

W. G. McCune of New Castle with others from district cities was given a citation award by C. A. Bolen, district plant superintendent, for special and meritable first aid work during the past year, which was not performed in the service of the company.

Safety awards for the past year were also presented to the employees. New Castle men receiving awards follow:

Loving cups—A. A. Webb, district wire chief, eight years with out an accident; T. H. Lawley, J. G. Gates, R. M. Nevel and W. G. McCune, 10 years with out accidents; W. C. Webb, 12 consecutive non accident years; W. G. Boyd, was presented a bill fold for a three year safety record.

BLOND OR BRUNETTE - - - By Laird

Which do gentlemen really prefer, blondes or brunettes? This has been a burning question ever since Anita Loos' book was written. Line up, gentlemen, and vote your choice. Will you have HER, a blonde, with golden hair and the blue eyes which should be mirrors of love and innocence?

Or will you take her with eyes as dark as sloes and black tresses?

Take it from me, girls, neither blonde nor brunette will win the count, or the margin will be so close that neither need worry at the winning. For it's the girls, bless 'em, that the boys lay awake o' night sighing over, and whether her hair is like spun gold, or like the raven's wing; be it flaming red, golden brown or chestnut, the girl of his dreams is the only girl. A girl's a girl for a 'tad.

Reputed Gunman Admits Killing Of Taxi Driver

Ralph Russell Sloat, 28, Admits Murdering Of Young Taxicab Driver

THREE DETAINED AS MATERIAL WITNESSES

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—The evidence linking Ralph Russell Sloat, 28, alias Joe Butler, reputed Scranton gunman, with the disappearance of John Lowry, 20-year old Scranton taxi driver, was drawn more firmly about the murder suspect today when he was quoted as having confessed to the crime.

Sloat declare he murdered the missing youth and dragged the body to the soft banks of a creek near Scranton where he buried it, detectives said.

"I didn't have time to make a very good job," Sloat is alleged to have said, "so I had to stick the body in the ground with the legs partly sticking out."

Sloat also is said to be implicated in a number of South Jersey holdups. He is being grilled by Detective Phillips, of Scranton, and Harry Neill and John Fisher, local detectives. Meanwhile Scranton authorities are searching the spot where the body is supposed to have been buried. All four of the prisoners under ar-

Pittsburgh Producers Satisfied

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—There will be a heavy demand for steel for several months yet, steel producers in this district believe. The magnates are more than well satisfied as to the tonnage of steel shipments and the steadiness of prices during January.

Pittsburgh Coal Company Officials Favor Revision Of Coal-Iron Police

DEPLORE KILLING OF JOHN BORKOSKI

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—Approval of the proposed changes in the coal and iron police system as advocated by Gov. John S. Fisher, was expressed here today by William G. Warden, chairman of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh Coal company and J. D. A. Morrow, president of the company.

This was the first statement from the high officials of the company, three members of whose police are charged with the murder of John Borkoski. Warden had just returned from Florida, and issued a statement upholding the governor's action and declaring concerning the beating, that "nobody deplores this more than we do."

Warden also announced that the three men, Lieut. W. J. Lyster, and Patrolmen Harold P. Watts and Frank Slapakis, being held without bond in the county jail on charges of murder, have been taken from the payroll of the Coal company. Their commissions were revoked yesterday by Gov. Fisher.

"This company always has been square with its employees," Warden said, intimating that the "right and square thing" will be done for Mrs. Borkoski, the widow, and her four minor children.

Warden did not say, however, that his former employees on the police force were guilty of murder. "It may be that some of the men involved in this are guilty of improper conduct, and not of murder at all," Warden declared.

WOMEN SMOKE BECAUSE THEY ARE FREE AS MEN

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Feb. 15.—The sole reason why women smoke is because they want to show that they are good sports and are just as free as men, according to Dr. J. Edgar Park, president of Wheaton college.

Dr. Park declared that most women don't like it, because inwardly they are dainty, and smoking, no matter how much you like it, is not a dainty habit. But they do it to show they are good sports and just as free as the men. They are actually doing it as the result of a sort of "inferiority complex".

Economic experts say couples are marrying younger. And, they might have added, oftener.

Hold Husband At Vandergrift

Man Is Held While Authorities Probe Death Of His Wife

(International News Service)
VANDERGRIFT, Pa., Feb. 15.—Idrys Roberts, 59, who came here from South Bend, Ind., to collect $500 insurance left him by his late wife, was still under arrest today while authorities sought to determine whether Mrs. Roberts was buried here Sunday but her body was exhumed on a tip from South Bend police and today her stomach was being examined by Pittsburgh chemists.

South Bend police telegraphed Vandergrift authorities to apprehend Roberts and he was arrested at his sister-in-law's home. He told Chief of Police Dwight L. Johnson that his wife had died from eating poisoned weiners.

Mrs. Roberts, 48, lived in Vandergrift until three years ago.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

Valuable Property Acquired By Yale

New Property Will Be Home Of New Haven Historical Society

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Feb. 15.—Yale University has made a clean sweep of all property in the Vanderbilt-Sheriff square along Grove, Wall Temple and College streets, and a further extension of the Vanderbilt dormitories and other scientific school buildings is expected.

Yale's latest acquisition, giving it control of the large block, is in the home of the New Haven Colony Historical Society. The historical society is to build a large new home in the Georgian style adjoining the home of Professor William Lyon Phelps on Whitney avenue in the spring, and Yale is expected to build on the old site very soon.

In the block are two Vanderbilt dormitories, Byers Hall and a group of dwelling houses converted into temporary dormitories. One of these houses is the former home of Noah Webster in which most of the famous dictionary, published just one hundred years ago, was written.

Club Wants Help To Fight Worms

Georgia Golf Club Greens Are Devastated By Fishing Baits

(International News Service)
VALDOSTA, Ga., Feb. 15.—The lowly worm is out-holing golfers on the Valdosta County Club course.

And as the result M. B. Gaddis, state entomologist, has been asked to devise some means of stopping the activities of the intruders.

An army of ordinary worms—the kind used for fish baits—is at the "root" of the trouble. The worms are boring into the greens and throwing up little mounds of dirt around the flag pins, interfering badly with putting.

N. Y. STREET CLEANERS HAVE BIG CASUALTY LIST

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Although unsung and receiving none of attention and glory that goes with a bright uniform and shiny badge, the "white wing" of New York showed a casualty list of 2,148 during 1928, according to figures made public by A. A. Taylor, street commissioner.

Six "white wings" were killed in line of duty and 2,142 injured, he reported.

Berlin Railroads Now Are Electrified

By April 15, Last Steam Locomotive Will Have Disappeared

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Feb. 15.—By April 15, this year, barring unforeseen hindrances, the last steam locomotive will have disappeared from the city, belt and suburban railroad lines of Greater Berlin. The beginning was made last October on three lines, including that from Erkner to Potsdam, and from the latter part of January on further electrified lines will be placed in operation at short intervals. The electrifying of these lines means much more rapid transit, the saving in time running from 25 to even 30 per cent.

CURED, BUT DECIDE TO STAY WITH LEPROS

CARRVILLE, La., Feb. 15.—Because there is no one outside who cares for them, two women pronounced cured of leprosy have chosen to spend the remainder of their lives in the United States Leprosarium here.

One woman has spent 25 of her 70 years here and the other 14 of her 28. Both told authorities their relatives were unwilling for them to return home. "So if you don't mind we'll just stay here," they told Dr. O. E. Denney, chief physician in charge of the colony.

They are the first in the history of the leper colony ever to remain after they had been pronounced cured. Cure of the dread disease is rare. In the history of the colony only 40 persons have been pronounced cured, Dr. Denney said.

County Poor Relief Department Report

Effective Work Is Done By County Department During Past Year

A considerable amount of relief was given at the office of the county poor director, Mansford B. Hogue, during 1928, an estimate of the activities of that department for the last 12 months' period reveals.

The resume shows that individuals were helped, representing a total of 351 families at times during the year. All of these cases were investigated as were the others where relief was desired.

In many instances, the report shows it was necessary to send persons to hospitals and sometimes to the County Home for care. A number were admitted into state insane asylums. During periods of unemployment the office was of valuable assistance either in securing work for those who needed it or in helping them while out of work.

In connection with the report, County Commissioner Calvin C. Boyd, president of the poor department board for 1928, wishes to thank all other charitable organizations which in any way assisted the department, and he says they were many. He states that the year 1928 and so far of 1929 has been a heavy drain on the charitable organizations in almost every county of the state, but he feels that Lawrence county is still one of the foremost in giving relief to the needy and is one county where all charitable organizations unite and work toward one common end.

Sews On The Buttons For The Married Men

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The coast check girl in a popular though expensive restaurant near City Hall Park was seen the other day busy with needle and thread sewing a rip in the coat of one of her regular male customers. Inside were bankers and brokers and lawyers and executives busily eating and chatting while she sat there at the entrance placidly sewing. An interested one asked her about it.

"Oh, I do it on my own initiative," she said, smiling, "for my regular gentlemen. They tip me nicely for it, of course. But do you know," she added, "I think every one of them is married!"

JAIL CRIPPLED WOMAN AT HER OWN REQUEST

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 15.—Mrs. Edith Brice was crippled. A year ago she was deserted by her husband. She went through many hardships—many vicissitudes and ups and downs, but today she is happy.

Mrs. Brice occupies a cell at San Quentin, convicted of passing bad checks, and she is there by her own request.

Life was too hard, she explained to Superior Judge J. R. Welch, upon a cripple, alone. She wanted someone to take care of her, and it might just as well be the state as any other agency.

Kill That Cold Guard Against "Flu" and Pneumonia

Don't fool with a cold. Use tried and safe method to fight "flu" and colds.

Medical authorities have issued warnings against a recurrence of the recent "flu" epidemic, similar to the second wave which followed the terrible scourge of 1918. They advise everyone to take no chances with a common cold, no matter how trifling it may appear.

Do the right thing now—take a cupful of steaming hot Bulgarian Herb Tea twice a week during these danger months. It will assist nature to quickly break up colds, and will fortify your system against the "flu" peril. Bulgarian Herb Tea is recommended by druggists everywhere.

COUPLE KISS AND MAKE UP IN COURT

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 15.—Called before a master appointed in their divorce action which threatened stormy and sensational scenes, Nicholas Vidove, a resident of Grindstone, 1722 Jefferson street, South Greensburg, were reunited and participated in a love scene. When a reconciliation seemed probable the master adjourned the hearing until the afternoon and when the witnesses reassembled they found the couple in fond embrace with all thought of a divorce banished.

The couple said that neither expected to meet the other at the master's hearing.

The old-fashioned thug with a week's beard who used a sandbag that killed but was not lethal, was a polished gentleman when compared with the perfumed pup with varnished hair who flashes a sawed-off shotgun to enforce his order to stick 'em up.

WAR TIME LETTERS BY COL. LEASURE

Written From Battle-front During Civil War

From Papers of Late
Col. J. S. DuShane

Col. Daniel Leasure
Picture Property of T. A. Preston, 1212 East Washington Street.

Jackson, Miss.,
June 14, 1862.

My Dearest Wife:—
It is just ten days since I wrote my best half not to say that Vicksburg has fallen and we are to march at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, following up Johnston who commenced a precipitate retreat as soon as the city fell.

We started after him towards this place, distant 50 miles, and by marching day and night we got here almost as soon as he did though he had 24 hours start of us. We arrived near the city of Jackson on the tenth and I had the advance of the extreme left toward Pearl river I had to swing around with great rapidity through a dense forest of small, scrubby undergrowth of stunted oaks and horns. But I got through and on the morning of the 11th we moved at daylight towards the city.

Dashed Into Battle.
I did not know where the city lay but our division led on. Col. Bowman's brigade on the right, mine on the left, General Welsh some distance in the rear, say a mile. Forward we went, our skirmishers well ahead driving the enemy before them until at last, at the foot of a hill we saw their unfinished rifle pits and their line of battle.

The Second Michigan regiment were my skirmishers that morning and somebody passed the word down from Smith's division on our right. I found skirmishers on the left, double quick and off we went, the gallant Second in brilliant style, and away went the rebel skirmishers before them and the Second dashed through everything and drove off their line of battle, knocking their breakfasts and knocked things about promiscuously, but at that moment an order came from the rear to halt. We had gone farther than it was intended we should go.

The Ninth corps were too fast.
They were not ready yet on the right and so my skirmishers fell back and held the crest of a rise in front of our line of battle. We now learned that we were within 800 yards of the state house in the city just over the hill in front of our line. Ten minutes more and the Ninth corps, or at least the first division would "have gone and done it" and been into the city with whirligig and Johnston driven bodily out, but it turns out that the plan is to "bug him" and so we maintain our line while we sit down to besiege the city.

Only 50 Yards Apart.
I do not pretend to know military science and do not know enough of present facts to justify an opinion.
My loss on the 11th was 11 killed and 4 wounded all in the Second Michigan regiment. We have rifle pits now to protect our advance line and so have the rebels. They are some 30 yards apart and a continual fire is kept up day and night. I will not attempt to tell you how we are situated.

You could not think it possible. These western troops that sneered at us are now dumb with astonishment at our style of fighting.

General Smith exclaimed when he saw me advance mile after mile driving the enemy before me "that officer fights a battle as if on brigade drill."

Things look now as if we were in for a siege of it here. The citizens have left the city and Johnston works day and night to strengthen his position. Of course he will be reinforced and so will we.

Yeans For Food.
The weather here is inconceivable, that's all. We live from hand to mouth. I had the fever on the march and so had Captain Gilliland, but I got an ambulance and we rode in it at the head of the column and Gordy issued the orders.

We have got quite well now. If we could get something decent to eat. After two days and nights, under fire, we rested two days and today the division is in the front under Col. Bowman where it will remain two days and be relieved for two days by Potter's division and the first goes in again under my command for two days and so we go.

Be under no apprehension about us.
The excitement of battle keeps us from getting sick and the danger seems much greater to you than us.

Situation is Improved.
I have not had a letter later than the second of June and scarcely hope for a mail and hardly dare hope this will reach you.

I am awfully hungry just now and our cook is foraging and so Johnny Marsh is making the coffee and cooking the roasting ears.

Of all our experiences, and they are not few, our present situation affords some improvement on all the past in more ways than one.

We are well, all of us, thank God for that, and may he have us and you, our dear ones, in his holy keeping ever.

Dear love to you all.
Affectionately your husband,
LEASURE.

Game Distribution Is Now Under Way

Fifty Thousand Rabbits Will Be Released By Game Commission

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Whenever weather permits game protectors and sportsmen throughout the State are releasing the annual distribution of game birds and animals furnished by the Game Commission.
Rabbits, numerically at least, always head the list in distribution.
Fifty thousand of them were purchased. A scarcity of fox squirrels was reported during the last season and as a result 500 were purchased and released.

The Commission has contracted for 121 wild turkeys, 12,000 Bob-white quail, 8025 ring-neck pheasants and 3540 Hungarian partridges.

The turkeys and pheasants have been received. The quail was imported from Mexico and the Hungarian partridges from Czechoslovakia. Because of the high tariffs on imported birds and the constantly increasing difficulty in obtaining them, the Commission intends to rely in the future mainly upon its own propagating farms.

dise where it costs nothing to die and where there is no income tax to pay while you are alive is Norfolk Island, which is situated between Australia and the chain of islands formed by New Zealand, the new Hebrides and the Solomon Islands, about 1,000 miles east of Brisbane, Australia.
When an inhabitant of the island dies no expenses is incurred by his family or friends, as all funerals are free. This custom of free burial is the outcome of another custom whereby every man must work fifteen days a year for the benefit of the community or pay one dollar a day for the same period instead.

Consequently, when anyone dies, in order to complete their 15 days compulsory service, carpenters and other laborers necessary for burials do their work free of work.

Mahoning Jail Fugitive Held

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 15.—Ten months of freedom enjoyed by George Golden, 22, jailbreaker and alleged robber and automobile thief, ended this afternoon, when the fugitive, who escaped from the County Jail here last April, was captured by Toledo police.

Golden climaxed his spectacular career in Youngstown, which police say included automobile thefts and holdups of street cars, drug stores and gasoline filling stations, when he and a companion sawed their way out of the jail here.

A country wide search was made for Golden, who also is wanted by authorities of Beaver Falls, Sharon, Niles, Hubbard, Chagrin Falls and many other cities.

Peter J. Corli, who was sheriff when Golden staged his successful jail break, offered $100 reward for his capture and a similar amount for the capture of his companion, Thomas Dusan, 41, who still is at large.

The two men, escaped by sawing the bars from their cell and the bars of a window and then sliding to freedom on a blanket.

Ladies' Night Rotary Program Is Notable Success On Thursday

Members of the committee in charge of the ladies night entertainment at New Castle Rotarians gave at the Carnegie auditorium last night a most successful and enjoyable evening. The program was a grand success of the affair although such would be putting it but lightly. There were almost 175 persons including members of the Rotary, their wives and lady friends and Rotarian guests from New Wilmington present and all enjoyed the program.

J. Lee McFate as general chairman for the evening with his committee, had arranged an attractive program. Opening with a dinner at 7 o'clock which was served by the ladies of the Third United Presbyterian church, the program continued until late in the evening with amateur vaudeville acts under the direction of Rotarian De Lacey Cole. A midway, chuck full of all the interesting things one would want to see occupied a greater portion of attention. Things too numerous to mention and otherwise, had been prepared as side shows by one Herbert Pears.

Pep singing was also one of the features and it was in this that one guest of the club from neighboring Westminster, Andy McDonald, so-starring with C. W. Herman Hess of the New Castle club more than sparkled.

Following the banquet, pep singing and the midway came contests in which the wives and fair friends participated. In a drawing contest, Miss Wilbur McCulloch took first prize with her drawing of her husband and herself seated in Rotarian D. Roy Bradford's airplane. In a duckpin contest Miss Margaret McFate daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McFate came out first.

The best part was to come, De Lacey Cole, had born the responsibility of having a real vaudeville treat for the evening. With the four acts that he secured all of which might go to push the best of the best off any circuit, Rotarian De Lacey carried his part of the program out well.

One of the acts the "Westminster Medical Shoppe" depicting the work of a clinic, drew a hearty applause. How Rotarian Harold McCulloch stood the appendicitis operation no one knows. Surgeon Ray Lutz, Jim Cole and Wilbur McCulloch consulted and a decision was made to operate. De Lacey Cole himself as hospital superintendent performed his part well and had the hospital ready for the patient on his arrival. Then came the operation resembling a boiler works during the busy season more than an operation room, saws, hammers etc. But the operation was successful and Rotarian McCulloch still lives.

Rotarian Baldwin Kammerberg's lingerie shoppe where L. A. Pearsall and De Lacey Cole were employed was another comical sight enjoyed by all. Then Cole had arranged a traffic scene picturing the corner of Mill and East Washington streets and had placed Herman Hess as the cop on the corner. In this act Karl Keuchler, De Lacey Cole and Baldwin Kammerberg took part. So did Roy Mardis, taking the part of Prexy Wallace of New Wilmington the first traffic violator of the day.

The Sheep Hill "ensemble" closed the program of the evening. Roy Bradford took first prize and others including De Lacey Cole again as one beautiful "anaesthetic dancer" took part here.

The New Castle Rotary club is grateful to the Carnegie Steel company whose auditorium they used and to George Bechtel for his services in helping the club make the evening the great success it turned out to be.

Brokers Loans Show Decrease

Tension Over Volume Of Credit In Stock Market Somewhat Lessened

FIGURES RELIEVE TENSE SITUATION

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Tension over the tremendous volume of credit absorbed in stock market activities was somewhat relieved today following the announcement that loans to brokers and dealers by New York City member banks of the federal reserve system had declined $101,000,000 the week ending February 13.

The board's report indicated that out-of-town banks had cut their brokers loans by $72,000,000 and that there had been substantial reductions by the member banks on their own account and for the account of others, including corporations and individuals.

As a result of the reduction it appeared that the reserve board might not take further steps to curtail credit than its warning notice of a week ago, now regarded as a method of flight-ening the small speculators out of the market.

Experts interpreted the falling of brokers loans as an indication that the banks, corporations, individuals and others are heeding the board's warning. The cut last week was in contrast to an increase of over $100,000,000 the day following the board's statement threatening curtailment of credit.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Mahoning School To Have Corrective Gymnastic Classes

Special Classes To Start Soon;
Other News Notes Of The Seventh Ward

A thorough examination of all boys and girls of Mahoning Junior High School is now being made in order to determine their rating in nutrition and posture.

The height and weight of each boy and girl is compared with the height and weight of the average boy or girl of that age. Standard charts are used for this comparison. Each pupil is then rated in one of four classes for nutrition. These classes are A—meaning Excellent; B—meaning Good; C—meaning Poor and D—meaning Bad.

His standing posture is also compared with a standard chart and he is again classified in one of four classes. All pupils in C and D classes are to be given an opportunity to attend corrective classes which will meet on Monday and Thursday of each week after school.

At these classes individual postural defects, such as flat feet, round shoulders, hollow back, flat chest, etc., will receive attention and special exercises will be prescribed for them.

To be most effective these exercises should be followed every day. The parents of the pupil can be of great aid in seeing that the boys and girls carry out at home the prescribed exercises. The gymnasium instructors will be glad to consult with parents concerning individual cases.

This type of work is an innovation in New Castle schools. Mahoning school being the first to give it attention.

Mr. Cecil Morgan, gym instructor, will supervise work for the boys, and Miss Anabel Randall for the girls. Dr. Mary J. Baker, health director for the city schools, is giving the work her support.

Illustrating the Yellowstone Park travelogue are a large number of beautiful hand-colored slides and moving pictures. Mr. Payne's pictures are truly remarkable—bringing to the screen in startling reality the wonders of the Park. ## MANY HAVE CATARRH OF THE STOMACH AND DON'T REALIZE ITS DANGERS

Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion;
World's Tonic, the Systemic Treatment, Combats Catarrh in Every Part of the System.

Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from lurred, coated tongues, bad breath, sour burning stomach, rumbling in stomach, gas, and stomach acidity, and call it indigestion when in reality they have Catarrh of the Stomach. Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because it alters the character of the mucous membrane lining the stomach, thickening it and coating it with phlegm, so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermenting, unassimilated food. The products of this fermentation pollute the blood and carries the infection through the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form. Frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer. Catarrh must, therefore, be combated within the system in order to

Expect Large Crowd At Annual Banquet Of Spanish Vets

Affair To Be Held On February 19; Auxiliary To Serve Dinner

Annual banquet of the Spanish-American War Veterans of this vicinity will be held Tuesday evening, February 19, in the Legion Home, North Jefferson street, under the auspices of Colonel Daniel Leasure camp, United Spanish War Veterans. Dinner will be served by the auxiliary of the camp at 6:30 o'clock on the evening of that day. Every Spanish-American veteran, whether a member of the camp or not, his family and friends, will be welcome to attend this event. The event is held each year in commemoration of the sinking of the battleship Maine, blown up, as it will be remembered, with great loss of life in Havana, Cuba, harbor on February 15, 1898. This precipitated the Spanish-American war, the only war in the history of the world that was fought entirely for humanity's sake. Each year the banquet is held as near as possible to the date of the blowing up of the Maine and this year the 19th was the nearest possible date on which it could be held. Tickets for the event are now on sale and it is hoped that not only the Spanish-American war veterans will purchase them but also their friends and families, so that a record crowd may be in attendance. They may be obtained from Comrade F. F. Knowles at the Legion Home, Comrade F. E. Nessel at his store on the east side, Comrade Orville VanHorn in the Johnson building, as well as from other members of the local camp.

The list of witnesses subpoenaed was not divulged by Coroner McGregor. It is known, however, that among those to testify will be John Higgins, eye-witness to the brutal beating; Dr. J. B. ## Penn. Child Got Well Quick

"My little son, Billy, had a serious attack of constipation," says Mrs. Margaret B. Devine, 6032 Locust St., Philadelphia. "It left him very weak and pale. His bowels wouldn't act right, he had no appetite and nothing agreed with him."

"We decided to give him California Fig Syrup. It made him pick up right away, and now he is as robust and happy as any child in our neighborhood. I give California Fig Syrup full credit for his wonderful condition. It is a great thing for children."

Children like the rich, fruity taste of California Fig Syrup, and you can give it to them as often as they need it, because it is purely vegetable. For over 50 years leading physicians have recommended it, and its overwhelming sales record of over four million bottles a year shows it gives satisfaction. Nothing compares with it as a gentle but certain laxative, and it goes further than this. It regulates the stomach and bowels and gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act normally, of their own accord. There are many imitations of California Fig Syrup, so look for the name "California" on the carton to be sure you get the genuine.

Famous food scientist urges sugar in diet

"Make your foods more palatable," he suggests

WE RECENTLY went to one of the country's great universities and asked an eminent food scientist his ideas about sugar in the diet. "Sugar is the most inexpensive condimental food in the world," he said.

Then he went on to explain what he meant in detail. "Sugar makes the diet more palatable," he said. "Sugar is Nature's incomparable flavor. Sugar is one thing that makes the daily dullness of our overly refined foods endurable. Another thing, it is wholesome. Another thing, it is inexpensive. This famous man has hit it. Sugar is perfection in sweetness. It is the ideal flavor—also a food."

Think of how good foods are made delightful to the taste by the addition of sugar. What could be better for us than grapefruit, apple sauce, cranberry sauce, baked apples or stewed dried fruits of all kinds, fresh or canned berry pies, cereals, jellies and jams? All of these are examples of excellent foods full of minerals, vitamins and other health elements made delightful to the taste by the addition of sugar.

Sugar in connection with cocoa or chocolate can make milk into a delicious beverage for thousands of children and adults, who find milk more tasteful when sweetened. The flavors of nearly all vegetables are improved in the cooking by the addition of sugar.

There is no substitute for sugar in good cookery. The sugar way is the happy way. The Sugar Institute.

Work Is Ford's Formula For Success; Emphasizes Influence Of Good Wife

(EDITORS NOTE:—This is the second of a series of three articles based on an exclusive interview with Henry Ford.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—Declaring that "work" is his formula for success, Henry Ford, the richest man in the world, today amplified that assertion by adding that a good wife or a mother who exerts the right influence also plays a tremendous part in helping an ambitious man attain his goal.

"I cannot estimate the amount of credit my wife should be given for whatever success I have achieved," said Mr. Ford. "It has been incalculable."

Reminded that his old friend, Thomas A. Edison, world's famous inventor, had stated on his eighty-second birthday last Monday that he did not know a single person who was happy, he replied, "I think Mr. Edison is the happiest man I know. He has reasons to be happy. He always has been busy. Early in life through hard work and the use of his great brain he accumulated enough money to do things. His creative genius has resulted in untold good for humanity. Think of the satisfaction that must give to him."

"Edison's work has always been constructive and genuinely worth while. That is the thing that makes for happiness. He radiates happiness. Any one is happy in his presence. It is contagious."

Ford remarked that "people ought to be more cheerful." They take themselves too seriously, he thought, adding:

"Generally when people are serious they are in some sort of trouble. And it is usually their own fault if they are in trouble."

"What is your formula for success?"

"Work," said Mr. Ford. "It's the only thing I know of that will do it. A successful man must use his mind, his hands and his feet."

"Looking back on your successful life, what achievement, or what moment, gave you the biggest thrills?"

"The last moment. That's the best moment for everybody. You feel better today than you did yesterday. You have learned something. You have gained experience."

"What is your position on the question of a college education?" he was asked.

"If a boy has a desire for a college education he probably will get something out of it. But, after all, it's the stuff the boy is made of that counts."

The young people of today are "all right," they are alert and active and they are going in for experience," he said.

Mr. Ford ventured the opinion that we are living in a "ripened world." He said people should take more interest in one another, and particularly, old folks should take more interest in the younger people, and people over fifty are doing just that thing, he added.

The manufacturer attributed his health to regulated diet and exercise. "When you do not feel right it is generally because you have overeaten or have eaten the wrong things."

"Not too much, is a safe plan, and do not mix the three different foods. I mean fruit, protein and starch. They should be eaten separately, an all-fruit meal, an all-protein meal and so on."

"When I want exercise I run or chop wood, a brisk run on rising in the morning and just before retiring at night is a great thing for the system. I like to get a good workout in this way. I can get my exercise quickly, and just when I want it. If I feel bad I stop eating and run it off."

"Discussing Mr. Edison's experiments with rubber plants which the famous inventor undertook for the purpose of giving this country a big home grown rubber supply in the event of a national emergency, Mr. Ford predicted that Edison "will find something that can be grown all over the country."

Ford lauded Edison, pointing out that that his great inventions made possible "mass production," which revolutionized industry in America. He said that we have been living in the "comfortable age" since 1880, the year after Edison evolved the electric light, the dynamo and motor.

In the third and concluding article tomorrow Mr. Ford will discuss prohibition, war agitation, the crime problem, capital punishment and economic conditions.

THREE BILLION PEOPLE RODE BUSES IN 1928

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—More than 3,000,000,000 persons or about 25 times the population of the United States, rode motor buses in 1928, figures compiled by the American Research Foundation showed.

These passengers paid out approximately $350,000,000 or almost one million dollars a day to the 92,000 buses in operation in the country.

Discuss Lease For Storeroom

Ferver Signs Lease Whereby He Renews Occupancy Of Room One Year

W. E. Ferver today appeared before members of council in formal session and discussed a lease which was presented him by the city. After council and Ferver discussed clauses in the lease it was signed by Mr. Ferver.

Mr. Ferver, who operates a store, did not like a clause which gave him 90 days to leave the building should the city want it "for any purpose."

Ferver said that should the clause read "for city use" he would be satisfied. Council said other leases had been written with the words "for any purpose."

He was advised that the city did not wish to do anything detrimental and that he could rest assured that there would be no advantage taken unless the city actually sold the building or needed the room for city purposes.

Scanlon Presents Low Widening Bid

Bids for the widening of Moravia street, between Division street and Big Run, today were opened when council met in city hall and on the face of the bids as read M. J. Scanlon presented the lowest bid of $4,392. The city engineer estimated the work should cost about $4,132.50.

Other bids: Mulcahy Bros., $5,205.50; W. E. Perry, $5,098.28, and Woods & Golder, $4,508.90.

The bids were referred to City Engineer Miller for checking. A contract will probably be let Monday. The portion of Moravia street to be widened is on the west side.

City Councilmen Exonerate Mission

E. R. Wolfe, accompanied by other officials of the Rescue Mission, today appeared before city council relative to the request for exemption of a lien filed against the mission as the result of widening South Mercer street. According to councilmanic action the mission will not have to pay the assessment.

Wolfe explained that the mission is devoted exclusively to religious and charitable purposes and that no charge is made for lodging.

HERE IS THE BEST WAY TO TELL AGE OF FISH

SEATTLE, Feb. 15.—Magnify one fish scale 65 times, count the summer and winter rings, and any scientist can tell you the age of a fish. That is the claim of L. P. Schultz, professor of fisheries at the University of Washington, who, in two years, expects to attain research results of great value to the commercial salmon industry and fish conservation of the northwest.

He has collected and enlarged 3500 scales. Rate of growth, injuries and in some instances the time of spawning can be determined from the scales, he said.

ORDER PICTURE MACHINE.

17,600 Planes Used Cleveland Airport

International News Service.
CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—Approximately 17,600 airplanes used the Cleveland Municipal airport in 1928, a year-end check of arrivals and departures at the airport shows.

This total does not include local sight-seeing and student flights, of which there were a great number.

In 1928, the year in which the airport was established, 4,000 planes cleared the field. This total increased to 11,000 in 1926 and to 14,000 for 1927.

The number of scheduled arrivals and departures by plane of air lines operating into Cleveland airport increased from eighteen daily at the beginning of 1928 to 24 daily at its close.

In the year, one air mail line, the Cleveland-Detroit route, operated by the Ford Motor company, ceased operation, but two other lines were inaugurated—The Cleveland-Louisville mail route, operated by the Continental Air Lines, Inc., and the Cleveland-Chicago passenger route, operated by the Universal Air Lines, Inc. Six lines now connect Cleveland with all parts of the country.

The number of hangars at the airport increased in 1928 from five to nine, with one other under construction and two more projected as the year closed. Provision was also made to increase the size of the airport to 1,100 acres, to improve the landing area and to erect an administration building. The year saw the completion tion of the Department of Commerce radio beacon and radio communication at the airport.

Genuine Rubens Canvas Found In Pawn Shop

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—The route by which a genuine Rubens painting representing Saint Paul reached a pawn shop from the hands of its original owners claimed the attention of police here today.

The painting was discovered when Karl Kunder, head clerk of an insurance agency, was arrested on a charge of embezzlement. He had pawned it for $4,000, officers found. He told them he had been commissioned by Count Schach von Wittenau to sell the canvas. Inquiry developed that von Wittenau was alleged to have bought it in a cafe from two unidentified individuals, giving in payment drafts of 10,000 marks each. The drafts never have been cashed.

It was reported that police were considering issuing a summons for the former owners.

For High Tariff

Joseph R. Grundy, of Bristol, Pa., president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, is said to be favoring what opponents to higher rates declare to be an "embargo tariff" on imports competing with Pennsylvania manufactures. Grundy supplied large campaign contributions to the Republican party.

It is said that Miss Morrow is not the flapper type even if she's going to marry a bird man.

Indiana Produces Million Barrels

Once Leading Industry In Hoosier State May Be Revived

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 15.—With a production of more than 1,000,000 barrels of oil last year, indications were that what once was a leading industry of the Hoosier state was being revived.

The state geologist's office has announced that the oil production in 1928 was higher than in any year since 1923.

The northeast part of the state, known as the old Trenton field, which some years ago produced practically all of the oil in this state, now yields only a small percentage of the yearly production, while the southeastern part of the state shows monthly increases.

One Hundred And Twenty-Five Couples Enjoy Valentine
Ball At The Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—The Valentine Ball which took place on Thursday evening under the auspices of the Men's Entertainment committee of the Ellwood City Country club was a success from every standpoint.

One young matron particularly looked lovely and similar to a lace valentine, in her white satin and duchess lace robe de style. Many of the younger set were out and the girls looked lovely in their fluffy wraps of evening gowns. Guests were present from Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Ambridge, Evans City, Butler, and Pittsburgh.

A pet deer, attached in a collection suit, was brought into court a few days ago, followed by two baboons as evidence in a game law violation case. But the limit was reached today when two squawking mud-hens were carried in as evidence against hunters without a license.

"Take 'em out and fine the prisoners $25," shouted the judge above the squawks of the mud hens.

Home Inmate Is Captured

Officers Get Fugitive While He Is Asleep At Township Home

For some time past the authorities of the Lawrence county poor district have been endeavoring to secure the return of an inmate of the county home who ran away from that place several weeks ago and has been staying in the Hickory township district.

But every time that this man saw one of the poor authorities coming he, being somewhat younger than the friend, at her home in South Arch street. Flumes from a detective, gas stove in the living room nearly claiming their lives and when the girl's mother happened to walk in to the room she found the couple almost unconscious.

County Detective William Fleming and Constable A. S. Leslie decided to use other tactics, when they were asked to get the man and so last night about 9 o'clock they went to the home of Andy Shelock in Hickory township, where the man wanted was known to hang out, hoping to find him asleep.

Sure enough the man was asleep in the cellar of the Shelock home and the officers secured him and returned him at once to the county home.

Teachers Will Not Be Elected

School Teachers Hold Over Under New System Now In Vogue

There will be no election of teachers in the New Castle school system this year. Under the new contracts which govern the teachers of this city, a teacher's contract is a continuing one from year to year, unless the board notifies her a month before the close of school that she would not return.

Each teacher in the system is being asked at the present time to indicate whether or not she will be back, and in the regular March meeting Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, will have the names of any teachers who the board does not wish to employ for the coming year, if there are any such.

Naturalists Leave On South Sea Trip

Famous Men Will Visit Tropical Agricultural Gardens In West Indies

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 15.—Two famous naturalists—Dr. Thomas Barbour, director of the Harvard University museum, and A. V. Armour, are leaving Florida soon on an exploration trip over the South Seas.

The trip was made aboard the armour yacht Otowane.

They will visit the Harvard biological and botanical foundations in Hayti, San Domingo, Porto Rico, Trinidad and other points in the West Indies.

Enroute home they plan to stop at the Harvard snake farm at Tela, Honduras and will proceed thence to Cuba.

During the West Indian cruise they plan to visit various tropical agricultural gardens and several small islands off the regular trade routes. In these places they hope to collect specimens of plants and seeds for in-production in the experimental stations at Summit, Canal Zone, Tela, Honduras and the Harvard gardens in Cuba. They will also collect zoological specimens for the collections of the Museum of Comparative Zoology.

Committee Will Study Methods At Lancaster, Pa.

In an effort to put the Opportunity Class work on a sound basis in New Castle, President Charles H. Young of the school board has appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. Rose M. Nothdurft, Attorney Roy W. Hazen and Daniel B. Woolcock to visit the Lancaster, Pa., schools and see for themselves what is being done in the way of Opportunity Classes there.

The work of the Opportunity Class in the Lawrence school has been temporarily suspended for a number of reasons. If this work is put upon a proper basis here, the state will make an appropriation for the work. In order to get it on the proper basis, it was felt that a visit to Lancaster, said to have one of the best arrangements in the state, would be of value. The committee will leave within the near future so that a report can be made to the board at the next meeting.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS, Editor The Farm Journal, Published by special arrangement of Central Press and News with The Farm Journal.

THE first flurry of New Year forecasts and business prognostications for 1929 having passed, and having been mostly forgotten by everybody, including the forecasters, let us make a brief adventure into the land of prophecy.

Not only farmers themselves, but many other classes of our population look anxiously to the future, wondering what 1929 will bring the farming business—and with ample reason.

Bankers, insurance men, manufacturers, salesmen, storekeepers, produce men, grain men, packers, railroad men, politicians, editors like myself—all have roots that extend into the soil of the farms. All are hoping that 1929 will be the year that will bring back the solid rural prosperity of 1913, if not the boom years of 1919.

Let me admit at once that nobody knows the first thing about it.

Not even the great organization of the federal department of agriculture at Washington, with the world's best fact-gathering facilities, and some of the world's best guessers, can make more than a feeble and timid effort at forecasting farm conditions.

Acres planted to certain crops can be, and are, measured—but the volume harvested depends wholly on the weather, on diseases, and on insect pests.

Animals on farms, and coming to market, can be counted and estimated closely—but who knows how much meat, and which meat, the average city family is going to buy six months from now?

"Cycles" of production and prices can be painfully worked out—but cycles have a mean habit of ceasing to revolve, just as we have them nicely charted.

Worst of all, prosperity on the farms depends not so much on farm prices, as on the relative levels of crop prices and prices of other commodities. To foresee how farming will stand this year, we must also foresee how most other businesses will stand.

It is hopeless, then, to try to figure how farmers will get along in 1929? No, not quite hopeless.

Luckily, we can usually rely on a fairly stable condition of things, taking the average of the whole country, and all the various branches of farming. Lines that are depressed, like the potato and tobacco specialties in 1928, balance others that are flourishing, like the feeders of beef cattle. The total value of farm production has been remarkably uniform for several years.

Without too great risk, therefore, we can assume that if there is a big change in farm conditions this year, it will be due to some new influence, entirely outside the business.

And such a new influence will appear, I think, in the passage by congress, at some time during the year, of two enormously important laws.

The first is a new scale of import duties on agricultural products, on a much higher level than ever before known in our history, aiming to put farm products on a truly protected basis. The other is the new agrarian law, probably resembling the bill which Senator McNary of Oregon now has pending in the senate.

The new tariff law should be distinctly beneficial to farm prices, just will be upward. Much depends, of course, on just what the law proposes to do.

All other conditions appear to me reasonably favorable. The supply of money and credit, the volume of production of manufactures, the wage scales and employment of workmen, all seem normal.

Weighing all these conditions, with others less important, I am reasonably optimistic for 1929 on the farms. The year should be as good as 1928, and may easily be better.

If there is virtue in the protective tariff, as applied for the first time to raw materials, 1929 may be much better.

Education Cost Is Low In City

Comparison Shows Many Cities Pay More Than New Castle

Education in New Castle is low in cost compared to the cities of the same size in other parts of the United States, according to a table of statistics received by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools. Out of 61 cities of from 30,000 to 100,000 New Castle is seventeenth from the bottom in low average cost, and below New Castle come cities that are for the most part in the far south.

The cost in New Castle for the last year was $81.86 as compared to $145.51 for Mt. Vernon, N. Y. Harrisburg, Pa., pays an average of $113.98, Erie, Pa., $109.79, an Allentown, $94.09. The average cost for all of the 61 cities listed is $96.43. New Castle is still below this.

Budget Meeting For School Board

Special Session On March 7 For Purpose Of Considering Budget

For the purpose of establishing the budget for the coming school year and of assessing the tax millage for the year, the New Castle School Board will hold a special meeting on Thursday, March 7.

While no definite figure has been arrived at for the budget for next year, a tentative draft made by Business Manager Hugh M. Marquis, shows a total of $129,805.00, including debt service which amounts to about $209,000.00.

No indication as to what the tax millage will be, has been made but because the tentative budget shows an increase of some $99,387.00, it is possible that the millage may be raised slightly.

Starving Wolves Killing Villagers

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 15.—Forced from their native lairs by extremely heavy snow, wolves continue their depredations in the rural sections and small towns, attacking both human beings and animals. Reports from Galantia near here say villagers have had to barricade themselves in their homes in order to keep from being attacked.

The School Of Prayer

"Brass Tacks" on the Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

IF YE ABIDE IN ME, AND MY WORDS ABIDE IN YOU, ASK WHATSOEVER YE WILL, AND IT SHALL BE DONE UNTO YOU. JOHN 15:7

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Prayer is a blank check on the unsearchable riches of God, signed by the Son of God and left with us, to fill in our own name and amount for which the check is to be drawn. Our Lord's promise is that "whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, He will give it to you." The funds in the bank at our disposal are inexhaustible. Christ's name is good as the bank for any amount. He is willing to counter-sign our checks. Why, then, don't we make larger use of this privilege of prayer?

Great Bible Prayers

The great prayers of the Bible afford us our most helpful lessons in the school of prayer. For example, Abraham's intercession for Lot in Sodom, which is the first great prayer in the Bible. It was intercessory, for he was praying for others and not himself; it was important, for six times he prayed, each time asking for more generous terms; it was definite, asking for a specific thing; and it was offered in a beautiful spirit of humility. Moses' great prayer for Israel after the sin of the golden calf was likewise a gem in intercessory prayer.

The Elements of Prayer

Nehemiah's prayer for the restoration of Jerusalem is a fine example of the proper ingredients that go to the making of a truly great prayer, for there we have them blended beautifully, and in the proper order: (1) Adoration, (2) Confession, (3) Petition, (4) Intercession and (5) Praise or Thanksgiving. These are the essential elements of all true prayer.

Christ's Model Prayer

Our Lord has given us a model prayer in what we call "the Lord's Prayer." It contains seven petitions, a symbol of its completeness, for seven was the symbol of perfection. Six of these petitions are for spiritual blessings, and only one of them for material blessings, a proportion which we generally reverse in our praying. The first three petitions, "seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness," the hallowing of the name, the coming of His Kingdom and the doing of His will. Not until the fourth petition is any material or bodily blessing sought, and even then the daily bread is sought, not for self alone, but for all the other hungry children of our heavenly Father, for we say: "Give us our daily bread." The first personal pronouns of this model prayer are all plural. There is not a "me," my or mine in any part of it. How different from the so-called prayer of the Pharisee: "God, I thank thee that I am not as other men—I fast twice in the week—I, I, I." The plural pronouns of Christ's model prayer compel us to embrace the whole human race, and bring all men with us in our arms before the throne of grace, as we ask for bread for body and forgiveness for soul, and leading and deliverance for all mankind as well as for ourselves: "Give us, forgive us, lead us, deliver us." Prayer requires love as well as faith and hope, and love is embodied in these plural pronouns.

Sincerity in Prayer

The chief requirement for effective prayer is sincerity; not a mere desire to be seen of men, but to worship God. The publican's prayer is a model for us in this respect, as he smote upon his breast in humble penitence, and cried: "God be merciful to me the sinner." A horrible example of how not to pray is given us in contrast in the so-called prayer of the Pharisee in which he broadcast to God and man his high esteem of himself in the words: "God, I thank thee that I am not as other men, etc." It is no wonder Jesus said that the publican went down to his house justified, rather than the Pharisee.

(The international uniform lesson for February 17 is Genesis 18:25-33; Nehemiah 1:4-11; Dan. 6:10; Matt. 6:5-15; Luke 18:1-14; John 17:1-25; I Thessalonians 5:17; I John 5:14-15, the subject being, "Prayer," and the Golden Text: "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will and it shall be done unto you." (John 15:7).)

(The suggested daily Bible readings for the next week are: Monday, John 1:35-42; Tuesday, Matt. 16:13-20; Wednesday, II Peter 3:14-18; Thursday, Col. 1:9-13; Friday, Phil. 1:1-11; Saturday, Luke 2:40-52; Sunday, John 15:1-10.

A New Discovery That Ends Ruining Fine Things Even Under Most Frequent Washings—And Cuts Washing Time of Clothes and Dishes ONE-HALF or More

NEW light has been thrown on saving fine fabrics from ruin and fade, and fine china from dishpan wear, that often saves the average family hundreds of dollars yearly, and the housewife countless heartaches.

A fadeless way of heavy washing has been found. A way that makes any water (regardless how "hard" it may be) and ordinary household soap into a perfect No-Fade cleanser.

Fine lingerie is washed 50 times or more—without noticeable fade. Expensive hosiery saved from fade and wear almost unbelievably. And results proved before this new way goes to you.

What It Is

It is a preparation called Climalene that you add to your washing water. Just a tablespoon or two.

Instantly, it takes all the harshness out of that water. Makes it soft as Rain-Water. So soft that it does the work with One-Fourth the soap you use now. And thus ends danger of "soap eat" to fragile things.

At the same time, due to certain bland cleansing agents, it instantly Dissolves all dirt, stains and grime. And thus cuts washing time, too—in machine or on board—ONE-HALF or more.

Use any kind of soap or soap flakes—the same soap you ordinarily do. Some 2 million women now are using it—for washing, for cleaning and in the dishpan.

Laboratory Proved

To assure results to you, we buy fine things—lingerie and delicate fabrics. Then by repeated washings, try to spoil or fade them.

We wash delicate lingerie, often 50 times—without perceptible fade. Children's rompers, 50 to 90 times. That's over a year's home washing. We wash gold-embroidered china hundreds of times—without a trace of gold gone. And thus prove the blandness of this way.

Consider, please, what those things mean to you. Consider, too, that the minute you put Climalene into water, all harshness is taken away—your hands protected from roughness, made soft and smoothly white. Then try it.

Remember the name—Climalene. Your grocer has it in 10c and 25c packages.

Interest Grows In High Grade Poultry

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Over 130,000 birds, 30,000 more than in 1927, were handled in the poultry breed year previous, indicating improvement in the quality of birds making up the flocks which are included in the project.

A complete list of the flocks and hatcheries in which this work was conducted during 1928 has been compiled and is available to all interested parties. The list can be secured by writing to the bureau of markets, Harrisburg.

Improvement work conducted by the state bureau of markets in 1928, according to E. J. Lawless, Jr., who is in immediate charge of the work.

Two hundred and seventy flocks and hatcheries located in 37 counties were represented. Of the total number of birds handled, 108,000 or about 80 per cent were approved. The percentage of culs was four less than a year previous, indicating improve-

Over 330 Planes Are Now Being Flown Continually In Dominion

MONTREAL, Feb. 15.—Sky riding is increasing so rapidly in Canada that there are three times as many airplanes now in operation as there were at the beginning of 1928. It is set forth in a bulletin issued here by the department of colonization and development of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The department's figures show that 333 airplanes are now being flown regularly in Canada compared with only 101 at the beginning of 1928. Of this total 246 planes are used in commercial aviation, while eighty-seven are used in government service.

When he took off from Valbuena Field last December, Miss Morrow was at the field to see him off. After he took off he dipped low over the Morrow car.

Anne Morrow won first honors in creative writing of both prose and poetry at Smith college, where she graduated last June.

Oil And Rum Forms Diet For Congress Session

Senate Tackles Walsh Report On Salt Creek Field And Jones Prohibition Bill

Indications Point To Rejection By Senate Of Report; Dry Bill Debated

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Oil and rum formed the legislative diet of the Senate today as it began consideration of the Walsh Salt Creek oil report while the Jones prohibition bill remained its "unfinished business."
The oil report, filed by Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D., Mont.), would criticize the Interior and Justice Departments for delay in cancelling Harry F. Sinclair's contract for royalty oil in the Salt Creek fields of Wyoming. The Senate public lands committee rejected the report by a seven to six party vote and the Senate brought it to the floor of the Senate for justification.
There was every indication the Senate, too, would reject the report, since the insurgent block apparently has deserted Walsh's leadership. In the committee room Senator Nye (R., N. D.) of North Dakota, the insurgent chairman, led a fight against the Walsh report and voted against it. He said he agreed with certain portions, but disagreed with Walsh's condemnation of Assistant Attorney General William J. Donovan, much mentioned as a possible choice for attorney general in President-elect Hoover's cabinet.
The Walsh report will be debated from noon until two o'clock. There seemed little likelihood of a final decision on the report in that limited time.
Lengthy Inquiry
The report consumed the committee's lengthy inquiry into disposition of the government's royalty oil from the Salt Creek fields. It was shown that for the whole period of the Sinclair contract the government received $300,000 less income than it would have under a contract calling for purchase of the oil at market prices. At one time both Donovan and Walsh approved the contract's legality, but both changed their minds later.

The Walsh report has met with little sympathy among the insurgent Republicans, whom he must win to secure its approval by the Senate. The insurgents have felt he didn't take the inquiry far enough, as the original resolution authorized an investigation into the actual leasing of the Salt Creek fields. This was done by the Democratic Wilson administration and the leases, while often condemned, have never been investigated.
Bill Is Debated
The Jones bill, meanwhile, will be debated by the Senate after two o'clock. It would provide for increasing the penalty for criminal prohibition violations to a new maximum of $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment. Under existing law the maximum penalty varies from six months to two years imprisonment and from $1,000 to $2,000 in fines. The Jones bill would make the new maximum apply to all criminal offenses under the prohibition law.
The vote has indicated they will fight the bill, Senator Bruce (D., Maryland) having warned the Senate that a five-year imprisonment was by far too harsh a penalty for a man taking a drink. On the other hand, dry senators declared the light penalties now inflicted under the dry law have encouraged bootlegging. The bill probably will be debated several days, but is certain of enactment once it comes to a vote.
And the Lone Eagle now takes a mate!

Ellwood City Woman To Take An Appeal

Mary Neigh of Ellwood City has filed a petition for appeal in the probate court of the county, from the disposition of her case by officials of Ellwood City under a borough ordinance.
She alleges that she was arrested and placed in the city lockup without a warrant, but that a warrant was soon after read to her, after which she secured bail. At a hearing before the burgess she was fined $100 and costs, from which she now wishes to appeal on the grounds that the ordinance under which she was arrested is not valid. The petition does not state what charge was made against her.

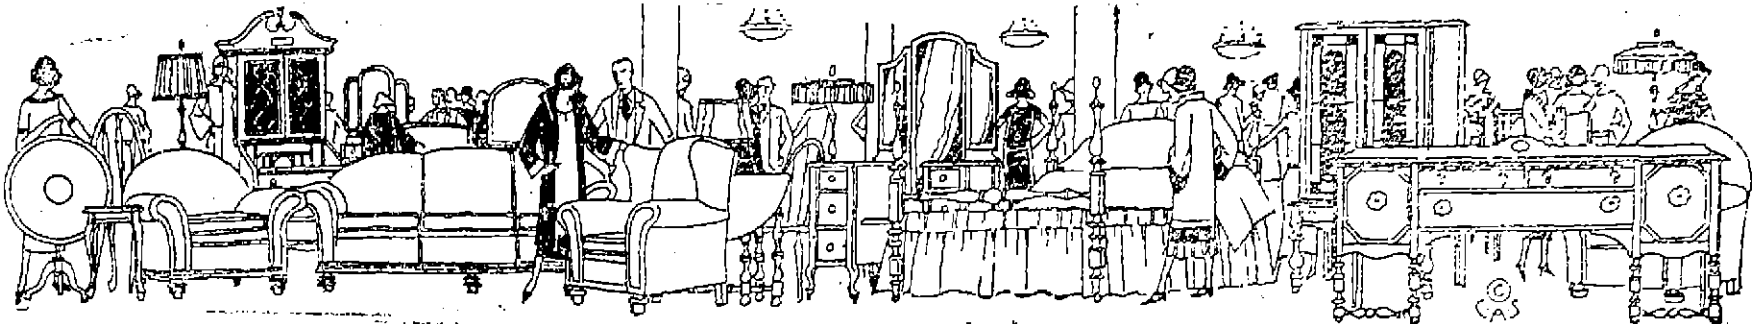

HIRE TAXI AND REFUSE TO PAY

They were then brought by him to the police station. This morning the two men were fined $5 each and agreed to pay the taxicab charges.
As we understand the papers over there, New York's police commissioner has gone to Florida to give the city a rest.

Falls Two Floors But Is Uninjured

Falling from a window in the third story of The Castleton hotel building this morning about 8 o'clock to the hard brick street below and suffering no injuries whatever was the case of a china ashtray.
This morning John Slack, manager of The Castleton, was seated in his office when a guest of the night walked in.
"Mr. Slack, is Shenango china a local product?" Upon being told that it was, the guest continued:
"Well, I placed this china ashtray which is marked with a Shenango Pottery stamp under my window last night. This morning when I lowered the window the tray slipped and down it went to the street." The street, by the way, was exactly two floors below and a mass of brick and concrete.
The guest looked out the window to see if it had been smashed on a spot where an automobile might pass and to his surprise the china tray was unbroken.
Upon going down and recovering the tray investigation showed that it had not been cracked or even chipped in any way.

Your Broadway and Mine

BY WALTER WINCHELL

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—From Art Young's "On My Way" time it is revealed how Eugene Field (the one columnist who never accepted a cent of tribute) obtained a much needed raise in wages. He had been persistently twined down to one day he entered the offices of the Chicago Record later the Daily News) heading a procession of little children. Their clothes were threadbare, their stockings torn and their toes sticking through their shoes. A few of them were his own dressed for the occasion. With a voice choked with tears Field called on the editor to look upon the terrible condition of his kiddies and then . . . have the heart to refuse a raise. He got the tilt and went outside with the children (some of them painstakingly gathered from the neighborhood) and gave them a quarter apiece.

IN THE EINSTEIN MANNER.
Eugene O'Neill's newest contribution to the theater Guild is called "Dynamo." It was described by Mr. O'Neill in a letter to a critic friend as being a "symbolical and factual biography of what is happening in a large section of the American (and not only American) soul right now."

Mr. O'Neill added that "Dynamo" is really that first play of biology "that will dig to the roots of the sickness of today as I feel it—the death of an old God and the failure of science and materialism to give any satisfying new one for the surviving primitive religious instinct to find a meaning for life in and to comfort its fears of death with."

Well all we learned was that "Dynamo" was pretty much of a bore almost incessantly incoherent stuff masquerading an entertainment which the Guild has dedicated itself to and "Dynamo" not only will prove to be over the average playgoers' head (except Einstein and perhaps Edie son's), but it is also a listless show, dealing chiefly with a religious conflict and electrical miracles.

Mr. O'Neill's dialogue is described by him as "interludism" but it is strange interludism and not fashioned of the material that embellishes his long distance run play—"Strange Interlude." The dialogue, the theme and the entire pattern to give any satirizing new one for the surviving primitive religious instinct to find a meaning for life in and to comfort its fears of death with."

It is done in the Guild style at any rate. The sets are good and the playing by Glenn Anders is excellent and the debut of the attractive Claudette Colbert as a Guild member also very fine. Dudley Digges acquitted himself handsomely as the electrical genius and atheist and George Gaul's interpretation of the religious fanatic was good.

Considering that the Guild is only experimenting again pieces such as "Dynamo" will only revive unfounded rumors of theatrical slumps. It contains very little appeal. Its love theme is buried beneath the avalanche of wordage, and by 10 o'clock the diversion seeker is left pretty limp.

HE WAS LIFELESS AND DESPONDENT

But ALL-BRAN made him wide-awake and well—doctor prescribed it

CONSTIPATION ruins hopes, saps strength. Yet thousands of sufferers have found the way to relieve and prevent this disease. Read how this man rid his system of constipation.

"During the three years before ALL-BRAN cured me, I experienced more embarrassing moments than I care to tell of. Being lifeless, dull, jumpy and despondent, I could not keep my job. My friends didn't want my company and I was tired of being asked 'What in the world is the matter with you?'"

"After spending much money for treatment, I finally found a doctor who advised me to eat ALL-BRAN three times a day. I did this for three months and I didn't need to be told that I looked better. . . . I felt better and acted better. . . . I am still using ALL-BRAN every morning and have no trouble now whatsoever." (Name and address upon request.)

Guard against constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to prevent it—to relieve it. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Far better than habit-forming drugs and pills.

ALL-BRAN is 100% effective. Doctors recommend it because it promotes natural elimination. Serve it with milk or cream. Use it in cooking—muffins, bread, etc. Delicious recipes on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars service it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Devotion

Prepared by Rev. Clarence H. Wilson, D.D., for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America

Topic for the Week

"LENT AND MYSELF"

Memory Verse for Friday, Interdenominational Day of Prayer for Missions.—"For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world" (1 John 5:4). Read: 1 John 2:12-17.

MEDITATION: It is a time for me to be asking myself whether or not the world has been too much with me, laying waste my powers and alienating me from the life of the spirit. Do I find myself more at home in the world than in the fellowship of Christ? Are secular affairs more interesting to me than the things of the spirit? I must be on my guard. For I know full well that the world may afford only temporary satisfactions. Its very successes may corrupt the heart. Its rewards may be only Dead Sea fruit turning to ashes on the lips. I must master it or it will destroy me.

PRAYER: O Lord my God who are from everlasting to everlasting and hast made me in the image of thine own eternity, deliver me from the bondage of things, let them not have dominion over me. Give me an understanding heart that I may choose for myself those things which make life sweet and which shall not pass away. Amen.

Ask For Probe Of Bankruptcy

Congressional Committee May Probe Court Action In Southern New York

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The House judiciary committee again today was confronted with demands that the full authority of the committee and Congress be exerted to force a speedy investigation of the conduct of bankruptcy matters and other affairs in the court of Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow of the southern New York district.

The committee was summoned into extraordinary session by Chairman Graham upon request of Rep. Laguardia (R.) of New York, author of a resolution demanding inquiry to determine whether Judge Winslow should be impeached. Although a spokesman for Attorney General Sargent declared that the Department of Justice would comply with the committee's request to begin a preliminary investigation based on the resolution, Laguardia was dissatisfied with the result of a personal conference with Sargent. Early passage of the resolution by Congress, as demanded by Laguardia, would set all the machinery of the department in motion.

Seek To Convict Baby Murderers

Mother And Daughter In St. Joseph, Mich., Are Believed Mentally Unbalanced

By HAZEL MacDONALD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Feb. 15.—Indications today were that Ethel Lewis, 49, and her daughter, Oakey Gorham, 23—both with the intelligence quotients, authorities estimate, of children of 8—will never be at large in the community again. The women are in the Berrien county jail, charged with first degree murder.

The charges originated in Mrs. Gorham's accusations that her mother killed six unwanted babies by mixing "sour mouth medicine" with the condensed milk in the babies' bottles.

Three of these children were born to the mother and three to the daughter.

Is Tough Case.

Sheriff Fred G. Bryant today declared his intention of taking steps toward detaining the women as public charges, even though the accusation of one subnormal person against another may prove insufficient to secure a conviction of murder.

"The women are obviously irresponsible," the sheriff said. "But it's a tough case to prove. In the event of an acquittal, or dismissal of the murder charge, I shall probably petition for a hearing to secure commitment of the women to the state hospital for the insane at Kalamazoo."

Several angles of the alleged wholesale baby-murder plot were still under investigation today, however. Bacteriologists of the state laboratory at Lansing began their analysis of the vital organs of five-month-old Clarence Wesley Gorham, who died last Sunday by his grandmother's hand, according to his mother.

"Ho, hum," yawns Mr. Pelican, terribly bored by visitors to the London, England, zoo, where he is now "at home."

Parents-Teachers Association At Oak Street School Meets

Appropriate Program Is Carried Out Thursday At Home Of Mrs. R. T. Galbraith

Frances Willard Day Is Observed

Interesting Program Is Given At Meeting Thursday Evening

Thursday evening the recreation room of the Oak street school was the scene of a very interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers association of that school.

The purpose of the meeting was to commemorate the 32nd birthday of the National Parents-Teachers association.

A brief history of the organization was given by Mrs. J. P. Boyard, telling of the founding of the first association and its subsequent growth and development.

A pageant, "Founders Day," was presented by some of the parents and children during which a huge birthday cake was lighted. The cake was baked for the occasion by I. J. Miller.

A history of the local organization was given by Miss Mary Martin. The Oak street school was the pioneer in the city in founding a parents club, and was also a pioneer in western Pennsylvania in adopting the Gary system. The former presidents were called to the platform and were presented with carnations.

Instrumental music was furnished by the orchestra of the Benjamin Franklin junior high school under the direction of Miss Eva Coulter. A trombone solo by Joe Davis and a saxophone duet by William Kerber and John McPeck were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Howard Meehan sang "Four Leaf Clover" and "Wake Up." The Castle Post, composed of Messrs. McCullough, Richardson, L. E. Sweet and C. C. Sweet, sang several selections.

The school chorus, under Miss Grace Eakin's leadership, assisted in the singing of the association song and other songs during the evening. After the program refreshments were served.

Need More Legal Aid To Dispose Of Liquor Cases

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The government needs a million dollars worth of additional legal talent to help clear up the congestion of liquor cases in federal courts.

Attorney General Sargent today submitted to the budget bureau a request for additional funds with which to employ special attorneys to prepare cases for trial. The exact amount asked for was not divulged, but it is understood something more than $1,000,000 was mentioned.

The request for the million will go to Congress along with the treasury request for $2,570,000 for tightening up the customs and prohibition bureaus.

Inspector Henry Dysart, city legal department, today advised council in formal session he had investigated the accident and claim of E. Scarazzo for damages to an auto tire and tube at Grant and North Jefferson street.

He said the city is not liable for damages.

It was reported that the Scarazzo car had run over the curb and the tire and tube damaged and a claim for $19 was filed with the city.

Open Sunday Bill Will Not Likely Be Voted Upon

State Legislative Committee
May Be Final Resting Place For Bill

From News Bureau
State Capital
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 15.—With the preliminary smoke screen raised by proponents of an open Sunday in Pennsylvania, it now appears that the bill offered by legislators designed to open up Sunday in this state will die a peaceful death in the Committee on Law and Order.

Two bills have been presented, one by Representative M. A. Musmanno of Allegheny county, and one by Representative James Wetach of Allegheny county. The Musmanno bill would give the cities, boroughs, and townships local option in the matter of allowing certain sports, while the Wetach bill is much more harmless.

Held in Committee.
Since the introduction of the bills, the Committee on Law and Order, headed by Mrs. Ella C. Adams of Fayette county, has not met. A poll of the committee indicates that there is little support for either bill in the committee and there seems no chance of either of them coming out on the floor for vote.

After presenting his bill, Mr. Musmanno offered a resolution which would have the state print 5000 additional copies of the bill, presumably to be spread over the state. When he offered it, Musmanno asked for unanimous consent to adopt the resolution immediately. Representative Ellwood Turner of Delaware county objected and the bill was laid over for printing. Since that time it has not been called up and Musmanno is apparently convinced that it would have no chance.

The first flurry over Sunday opening seems to have been the last. The matter is receiving scant attention and like other bills in past sessions, of similar character, the two in this session will probably never get to the calendar.

The utility of getting a divorce and trying again lies in the fact that time will wait a rose tomorrow just as it did yesterday.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 15.—An election bet has cost Ben C. Richards Jr., Dallas politician, three years' imprisonment. He was found guilty of forgery and sentenced by a jury last night after five hours' deliberation.

Richards forged an endorsement to one of two $1000 cashier's checks put up as an election wager. When V. Ray Adams, one of the winning bettors, found the money had been paid to the wrong man he killed Orville Mathews, banker, who acted as stakeholder. His trial for murder resulted in a mistrial.

RELIEVED PAINS SHE HAD ENDURED FOR MANY YEARS

Local Lady Claims New Medicine.
Ten Herbs; Was Wonderful
For Health Troubles

Ten Herbs not only relieved the pains through my body and limbs, with which I had suffered for many years, but gave me relief from other health troubles," was the recent statement of Mrs. Augustus Prediger.

MRS. AUGUSTUS PREDIGER

1703 Morris Street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Ecker's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this successful new medicine.

"Sometimes the pains through my body and limbs were so intense that I could hardly get around," Mrs. Prediger continued. "After eating, my stomach would fill with gas and bloated. I was troubled so with indigestion that I really dreaded meal time. My nerves were in a terrible condition—the least noise bothered me. I had headaches all the time. My liver was disordered, causing my skin to be sallow. I had to arise several times at night, which greatly disturbed my rest. In the morning I would retch and sometimes bring up a thick black mucus, which would leave me exhausted."

"A friend recommended Ten Herbs, and I started using your medicine. The first bottle gave me great relief. My stomach became normal, and now I can digest my food without being troubled with gas, nausea, or retching. Headaches have stopped, and my nerves are greatly improved. There has been a decided improvement in my complexion. I sleep soundly without having to arise. Catarrh of the stomach has been wonderfully relieved, and I no longer retch in the morning. I have been so vastly improved in health that I cheerfully recommend Ten Herbs as a wonderful medicine for building up one's general health."

Thousands here and elsewhere are letting Ten Herbs help to protect them from influenza, grippe, and common colds. It does this by thoroughly cleansing and toning up the whole system, and relieving disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus building bodily resistance.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Ecker's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Country Doctor Is Disappearing

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 15.—The old country doctor who drove through any kind of weather at any time of the day or night to minister to his patients is disappearing from Missouri.

A survey conducted by Dr. James Stewart, state health commissioner, shows that there are too many medical practitioners in the large cities of Missouri while the number is diminishing in the rural districts. There is one physician for every 400 persons in the urban sections but only for every 885 persons in the rural districts. Dr. Stewart learned.

An enormous decrease in rural population making the returns to the country doctor out of proportion to the cost of medical education partially accounts for the condition he said.

Potato Starch Not Tuberculosis Aid

Potato Starch Does Not Feed
Feared Bacilli, Scientists
Discover

(International News Service)
DENVER, Feb. 15.—As another step towards knowing how to treat tuberculosis, starch has been found not to be the element in the Irish potato that feeds the feared bacilli.

Dr. Nao Uyei, research chemist at the National Jewish Hospital laboratory here made the discovery according to announcement by the institution.

It may be many years, Dr. Uyei pointed out, before the material in the potato is found that causes tuberculosis to thrive, but the practical elimination of starch is a great help in knowing how to diet patients.

It sometimes takes months for bacilli to develop, but experiments with them will be carried on to find out which of the proteins, vitamins, fats or other substances that compose the potato is used by tuberculosis bacilli for food.

Maybe Lindy got tired of that title, "Lone Eagle."

MILL TO SAVE

(International News Service)

MILROY, Pa., Feb. 15.—Rather than imperil the estate of a 14-year-old boy, the Thompson Brothers Knitting Mills have been closed down after more than 90 years of continuous operation here because of poor business conditions.

The original mill was established in 1808 and continued under the operation of Thompson brothers of three generations. Albert Thompson, 14, son of the late George Thompson, last surviving brother of the third generation, was bequeathed the mill under the terms of his father's will.

The will, however, made no provision for financing the business from the residue of the estate, which was less than $15,000, and executors closed the factory rather than deplete the youth's trust fund in continuing what they termed a "hazardous investment."

Possible Local Benefits If Four Cent Gas Tax Is Imposed By State

With the proposed four-cent gas-tax very much in the public eye at the present time, Lawrence county motorists are wondering what benefit will be derived from it, if it is passed and what the state proposes to do with the additional cent of revenue.

No legislation has been presented as yet for the additional cent tax, nor for any improvements the State Highway Department intends to make, but the tentative plans of the department have already become known.

Three Propositions

Three propositions are being considered by the department and have been considered for some time. First, the taking over of all bridges in the state that are on state highways; second, the taking over for maintenance of all state aided highways, and third, the aiding of cities in the maintenance of streets over which state highways pass.

Here in Lawrence county such a three-way plan would mean a material aid for the county if passed, with the first of the most desirable, from the standpoint of money saved.

In this county there are 14 bridges which would be taken over and maintained if the state takes over state highway bridges, with two of them having to be built within the next two years and two more having to be rebuilt when the Perry Highway is completed.

Of the 14 bridges nine are of steel construction. They are: Edwood City, Rapp's Mills (near Burnstown); Wurtzburg, Van Gorder (near Wurtzburg); West Pittsburg, Willow Grove, Rose Point, McCracken (near Harlansburg), and Muddy Creek. One bridge, that at Edenburg, is a wooden bridge.

Three are concrete bridges, the three being the Hickory creek bridge near Willow Grove, the Butler road bridge, just beyond the edge of the city, and the Hickory creek bridge near Mt. Jackson. One bridge, that near Cascade Park, is stone.

Two Need Rebuilding

Of these bridges, the Willow Grove bridge and the Edenburg bridge need rebuilding now. If the state does not take them over Lawrence county must build them within the next two years, at a total cost to the county of perhaps $300,000.

When the Perry Highway is paved the McCracken bridge near Harlansburg, and the Muddy Creek bridge, at the head of the road leading to Muddy Creek Falls, will have to be replaced, and the Rose Point bridge has always been too narrow and should be replaced on the Butler road.

The maintenance cost per year is an item of importance to the county commissioners and they feel that if the state took over the bridges named it would release money for roads that are now needed for maintenance and building costs.

State Aid Roads

Should the state take over for maintenance those roads which were built as state aid roads it would mean the removal of 50 per cent of the maintenance cost of the road from Croton to East Brook, and the road from Mt. Jackson to the Ohio state line through Bessemer.

In the third proposal, that of aiding cities in the maintenance of streets over which state roads pass, New Castle would not considerable money.

East Washington street from the city line on the east to the Public Square is such a street. Croton avenue from the city line to East Washington street, is another; North Jefferson street and Wilmington avenue, from the Public Square is another, and Grant street from Jefferson street to the city line is another. Just what streets would be designated on the route leading from the Wapum road is a question. Originally this road led over the viaduct and up Moravia street. Since the building of Atlantic avenue the traffic has come up this street. One of these would be designated as the street to be aided by the state.

This, in a nutshell, is what the State Highway Department is considering. If they are taken up and passed by the legislature the money must be provided and the State Highway Department feels that such taxes should be raised from the motor traffic that uses the roads.

The Story Of American Industry
Mine Labor In The Old Days

HAND LABOR PLAYED THE PRINCIPAL PART IN COAL MINING OPERATIONS IN THE OLD DAYS. SOME OF THE OLD METHODS PERSIST IN SOME OF THE SMALLER MINES OF TODAY. FAR UNDERGROUND THE MINER DROPS THE COAL WITH PICK AND SHOVEL BY THE DIM LIGHT OF HIS FLICKERING OIL CAP LIGHT, AND LOADED THE COAL INTO CARS BY HAND. THE COAL WAS RAISED TO THE SURFACE ON LIFTS BY WINDLASSES OR WINCHES TURNED BY HORSES AND, LATER, BY STEAM.

THE MINE CARS WERE DRAWN BY PATIENT, FLOODING MULES, WHICH WERE KEPT UNDERGROUND AND RARELY, IF EVER, SAW THE LIGHT OF DAY. THE MINER HIMSELF WAS NOT MUCH BETTER OFF AS HIS DAY WAS SPENT IN THE SEMI-DARKNESS OF THE MINE. HE WAS PAID ACCORDING TO THE NUMBER OF CARLOADS OF COAL HE MINED.

THE DOORS OF CERTAIN PASSAGES HAD TO BE KEPT CLOSED AND OTHERS KEPT OPEN TO PROPERLY VENTILATE THE MINE, AND REMOVE FOUL AIR AND DEADLY GASES. FOR YEARS BOYS WERE EMPLOYED TO OPEN AND CLOSE THE DOORS. LATER, LAWS WERE PASSED PROHIBITING CHILD LABOR IN THE MINES.

IN THE OLD DAYS, BOYS ALSO WORKED IN THE DUSTY "BREAKER", PICKING THE SLATE FROM THE COAL AS IT POURED DOWN THE CHUTES, AND ASSORTING THE LUMPS OF ANTHRACITE FOR THE MARKET. TODAY THIS WORK IS DONE BY THE COAL PASSING OVER AND THROUGH SIEVES AND SCREENS.

Jackie Fields To Battle Baby Joe Gans In New York City Tonight

FIELDS FAVORED BY BETTING ODDS

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Jackie Fields, the welterweight champion, is expected to defeat Baby Joe Gans in a bout in New York City tonight. The odds are in favor of Fields, who is a favorite with the betting public.

A right hand punch into the body of Jackie Fields in a bout in St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11, 1915, threw the world's bantamweight title into one of the worst messes a boxing championship has ever encountered.

The blow occurred in the fifth round of a bout between Fields and Kid Williams, then champion. The first four rounds were fairly even, Fields proving a good puncher for the agile Williams. However, the roly poly type of chunky fighter, showed amazing speed and succeeded in getting over a lot of good wallops.

In the third round Williams smashed across a right which rocked the challenger. Again in the fifth, the Kid cracked Fields and in trying to put over another sank a glove which the referee said was low.

The referee immediately raised Fields' arm, declaring him winner on a foul. The Kid's backers let out a howl, charging this was in direct violation of a state boxing code rule. Fields insisted he was champion. Williams continued to act as the title holder, asserting as he had not been beaten the crown was still his.

A few weeks ago it got large-hearted and gave Max Schmeling the heavyweight championship. The heavyweights and it all goes to show that it isn't always what you do, but sometimes the way you do it.

A phit-t-t as a featherweight, Fields came here two years ago and couldn't lick the flap of an envelope. He tried to out-stride the steppe and arrived nowhere in great haste. Tonight he is replaying the town as a welterweight, a lad who lams them and leaves them, and so impressed is the community with all it has heard that, if he beats Baby Joe Gans to the decision New York probably will award him the championship by acclamation. New York is big that way. It gladly will give you anything it doesn't happen to possess.

Beats Gans on Coast
A champion fighter who doesn't fight remains a champion, but not a fighter. On the face of things Fields' recent record lays all over Dundee's like a counterpane. A year ago they weren't even close, but somehow things do happen in the course of a year.

For one thing, Dundee accepted a left hook with his countenance from Jack Thompson in a non-title fight, went out in a punch, prompting most of the boys to line up behind Thompson and sing the tag day song, entitled you're it, meaning the uncrowned champion. Upon which Fields beat Thompson and knocked out Pete Meyers, who subsequently knocked out Sergeant Sammy Baker after Fields himself had knocked out Samuel. It is all very baffling, but it seems to point unerringly, as we say at the servants' entrance, to one conclusion.

That Fields, not unlike Benny Leonard, uncovered an overnight punch, concentrated mostly, they say, in a great left hook. Stake your eye to one of those and you have something; couple it with a good straight left and you have almost everything. That is supposed to be Fields' pedigree and, if there is anything in it, the current odds of 8 to 5 on him are not misplaced. He beat Gans on the coast not too long ago.

1915—WHO WAS THE CHAMPION, ANYWAY?

Henry Firpo Ready For Evans, He Says

Advised Of Dick's Letter, He Issues A Statement Chockful Of Meaning; Looks Like "Fight Of Year" Will Prove Banner Fistic Attraction

By ED. FRITZ
"I won't be long now! Just a couple of more days, Monday, to be exact, then the Fight of the Year: Dick Evans vs. Henry Firpo. They've been tossing a lot of verbal bricks at each other for a year and now they're fitting for the conflict."

Evans believes that Firpo has been making a big record by showing over a lot of "push-overs." Firpo believes that Evans is an over-rated fighter and expects to knock Evans like a broken stovepipe hat.

Last summer the quarrel started. Training hard, Evans said he wouldn't fight until he got the price he demanded, and after a few harsh words were spoken on each side he declared he could live without fighting here—which he can.

He said that the talk about Firpo wanting to box him was nothing more than a lot of "bunk," and if the time even came for Firpo to sign, Jimmy Dunn would be Firpo's south side of the Mason-Dixon line. Several weeks ago Dick Evans visited the writer and said he would box Firpo. Bill Jolly was acquainted with the facts and after a few "ons" and "offs" the fight was actually arranged.

Dick has been training at Youngstown. He wants to win this fight if he never wins another. He is having no trouble reaching the 158 pounds prescribed, he declares.

Firpo's Statement
Firpo has been romping in Cleveland. He is always in condition and, inasmuch as Dick said some wicked things of Dunn, the latter can be depended upon to have Firpo in shape.

When Henry was advised of the contents of the Evans letter he did not become wrathful; he didn't even tear up the telephone over which he was talking.

"Tell the fans of New Castle that I am not a letter-writer. You can also tell them that Henry Firpo, the available and always ready middleweight, will be rarin' to go with Evans Monday night."

Those words, while not of the cutting, biting kind, carry weight. It says he will fight his best, that he is in shape and that he is eager to see if Evans is better than he is as a boxer.

According to advices from the box office there have been more tickets sold for this fight in advance than for any other bout held since the Bowl opened.

Three Important Games In Tri-State Tonight

Westminster Down In West Virginia Hobnobbing With Bethany Bisons
Geneva Five To Invade Thiel; Waynesburg To Battle Duquesne

By "RUGS"
ES of the Tri-state Conference basketball world are trained on Bethany, W. Va., tonight. If Westminster can defeat the unruly Bisons in a return battle at the southern college floor the conference race is going to be tighter than a size 30 belt.

The Westminster Titans chucked full of confidence, departed today for West Virginia. The Carnegie Tech team did not give the United Presbyterians much competition Wednesday night, but the game did afford a good workout.

Coach John Lawther has the Titans primed for tonight's engagement. A victory for Westminster this evening will just about throw that quiet little town of New Wilmington into another armistice celebration.

Bethany Seeks Revenge
Bethany fell 27 to 22, at Westminster recently. If Delahanty, O'Donovan and Tudor Lewis are "on" to night the Bisons are in for another drubbing. Coach Furman Nuss paid and a few infielders are on hand.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 15.—The baseball training season will get underway officially today when the New York Giants limber up at their camp here. Most of the battery men and a few infielders are on hand.

Crimson-Allegheny Battle Tonight In Game At Meadville

Coach Thorn Has Grove City Team On Edge For Important Battle Tonight

GROVE CITY, Pa., Feb. 15.—Coach Thorn's Crimson quintet has a golden opportunity at Meadville this evening when it tangles with Allegheny college. The Methodists further mixed up the district race this week by defeating Geneva. Grove City can step into the spotlight by winning the Allegheny game, and turning what threatens to be a poor season into a fairly prosperous one.

Allegheny already holds one decision over the Grovers, winning a close affair here early in January. Since that time both clubs have come along at a fast clip. Allegheny is favored to win the encounter, but Crimson fans are hoping for an upset that will raise Grove City's standing in the district race.

The combination that Coach Thorn will send against the Methodists is a matter of much conjecture in local sports circles. The Crimson mentor has been tinkering with his squad throughout the season, hoping to perfect an attack that will function as smoothly as Grove City teams have in the past.

DeCoster, who suffered broken ribs in the Waynesburg game, may be available against Allegheny. He showed some of the most impressive stuff among the new men this year, and his presence in the lineup will add speed to the attack. Apparently Canfield has won a regular berth, and Bartlebaugh flashes moments of high class play. These three are new men who have improved rapidly under Thorn's tutelage.

Grove City's attack looked good against Thiel this week. If the play produced in the first period can be duplicated at Meadville, the result may surprise court fans.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Promoter Humbert Fugazy said today he had been forced to abandon his plan to pit George Godfrey, Philadelphia welterweight, against a white heavyweight in a bout at Havana on March 8. ## Proposed Augusta Games Vetoed By School Board

It has always been the policy of the board to back athletics in the schools, but in this case the members felt that it was wise to send the team so many miles away for a football game. The proposal was to play Augusta, Ga., on October 26, 1929, in New Castle and to play the return in Augusta, Ga., in December, 1930.

GUS' FLYING TACKLE IS APPROVED

According to a ruling of the Illinois Athletic commission, the flying tackle with which Gus Sonnenberg defeated Strangler Lewis for the heavyweight wrestling championship, is a legitimate hold. ## Horsemen Plan Events At Fairs In Racing Circuit

Butler Date Set As During Week Of August 19-25; Many Tracks Represented

BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 15.—The stewards of the Coal and Iron Circuit representing tracks in Butler, New Castle, Stoneboro, Dayton, Ford City, Clarion and Mercer started a movement here to have New Castle move up its date from the last to the first week in August, giving the circuit and horsemen racing three weeks before the Keystone Circuit opens. A conflict of dates between Clarion and New Castle the week of August 27 was left to a committee and Secretary J. C. Hartwell of New Castle promised to present the proposal of moving up two weeks, giving Clarion representation on the loop without any nearby opposition. The meeting was held in the Nixon hotel.

Five tracks agreed to stage 3-year-old trotting and pacing events for purses of $400 to $500 each, and it is possible that a chain of six tracks will feature colt races on their programs. It is practically assured that all tracks will give 2:20 trotting and pacing stakes for purses ranging from $500 to $1,000 to attract the horsemen from other sections.

According to the speed secretaries, New Castle will stage 11 events on a three day program; Butler, 12 events; Ford City, 8 events; Dayton, 8 events; Stoneboro, 9 events, and Clarion 8 events. The total amount in purses and stakes will exceed $40,000 this season. An attempt was made to have the tracks give uniform purses, but several of the speed secretaries already received their appropriations and could not increase their purses higher at this time.

The new schedule to be ratified later is New Castle July 29-August 3; Dayton August 6-10; Ford City August 13-17; Butler August 19-25; Clarion August 26-30; Junction Park August 31; September 2-3; Stoneboro September 2-4; Mercer September 10-13.

The stewards and about 50 horsemen were guests of the speed department of the Butler fair at lunch in the Hotel Nixon.

Max Schmeling's Own Story I Turn Professional

Max Schmeling training at Lancke, near Bernau, Germany, for his professional fight career.

By Max Schmeling
CONTENDER FOR THE WORLD HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP

Written for Central Press and New Castle News

CHAPTER SEVEN
TURNING PRO

Late in 1924 I turned professional. It was wearisome work running up and down ladders (I was a hod carrier by day), and then fighting at night in amateur rings for nothing. I didn't find it hard to change.

So I went into the boxing business with nothing but a fair left hand, a right cross and much ambition. But I was lucky for Herr Wilhelm Fuchs, a smart manager took charge of my affairs.

My first match was with a policeman by the name of Hans Czapp. He was a brave man but no fighter. In the fourth round a right cross put this fellow to sleep. The promoter gave me $20. I thought I was rich.

In my next six fights I was very lucky. Still not knowing much about boxing, I managed to win them all by knockouts. None of the fights lasted longer than three rounds.

These victories were bad for me. I became proud.

"Hal," I thought, "Max will show them. I am a wonderful boxer."

You know what happens to young men when they think they are unbeatable. It happens to me.

My next fight was with Larry Gaines. He won it in two rounds.

That was a terrible blow at the time, but it taught me a valuable lesson. I remembered that lesson in every fight after that but one—and that one nearly cost me my ring career.

In my next nine fights I won six of them by knockouts. Two were draws and I was beaten by Jack Taylor on points. Taylor was one of the smartest fighters I met while boxing in Germany.

By this time I was one of the best advertised fighters in Germany. Herr Arthur Bulow, editor of a boxing magazine, signed me to a contract when it was discovered my contract with Fuchs was illegal, as I had signed it when not yet of age.

My victories had forced Max Dieckmann, the light-heavyweight champion of Germany, to recognize me as a challenger. A match between us was arranged.

Dieckmann met me in September, 1926. In that fight he made the same mistake I had made against Gaines. He underestimated me, believing I had no chance to win.

My favorite punch, a right cross, hit him in the face at the end of the first minute of the first round. He fell to the floor and did not get up. I had won by a knockout and was now light heavyweight champion of Germany.

Then I was matched with Ferdinand De Lorge for the light heavyweight championship of Europe. I knocked him out in the 13th round.

These victories and titles made me happy but not more so than a victory I scored over a fighter named Louis. When we were both amateurs Louis had defeated me badly in a bout. After we became professionals promoters matched us because they knew I wanted to revenge myself. In this second fight I knocked Louis out in 11 seconds.

NEXT—How Gypsy Dandies almost ended the ring career of Schmeling with one punch—told by Max himself in the next issue of The News.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Jewelry stores about town will have a sale of watches among fight fans Monday night and fans who have "stop" timepieces will have them out when Romeo Pacelli and Mickle Dugan clash. No difference what side a fan may be on he will want to be gazing at his timepiece should either Romeo or Mickle score a knockdown.

The first time they clashed Romeo fooled the talent by smacking the Austrian with the Irish lights on the jaw. Mick went down on his right knee but arose without a count.

A second later Romeo threw a right hand to the jaw that had knocked out the Austrian went flat on his back and he was either out or as near out as he will ever be.

The referee tolled over his form and there were many who had already asked: "What's the next bout?" when the game and cagey Dugan got to his feet.

Romeo was waiting, however, and delivered another right that found its mark and Dugan went down and many thought as he lay on his right side that he would never get up.

It looked as though he was dreaming the sleep of the Knocked Out. The referee tolled off the fateful numbers and therein is the allegation that Dugan got a "Tunney count."

Dugan finally got to his feet at the count of nine uttered by Referee Chip. He grabbed his hat and lashed the round and in the third scampered away for the entire three minutes.

In the fourth he waited for Romeo to lead, beat him to the punch and in the last three rounds made a great showing considering that he was down three times in the second.

"I thought I had him out," said Romeo when he signalled for the round and thought the fight was all over."

These two will battle in the semi-final to the Dick Evans-Henry Piro bout and before they go on U. S. Carpenter, New Kensington, and Billy Wallace, Youngstown, will clash at 130 pounds.

Carpenter and Wallace are popular here. Carpenter is a clever boxer and Wallace is a wing-in type that likes to throw swings from the floor, hips and from the ceiling.

Carpenter and Wallace have fought sensational battles with Frankie Rio and when they step forth the fans will see a lot of action—at least 20 cents worth as five fights now sell for a "buck."

Nick Polis will get the acid test when he meets Maxie Brown. Nick has been having a great time whamming Elmo and the dark-hued Parrow and he may have to fight as he never fought before.

Should Polis be able to keep step with the blonde-haired light-heavyweight from Youngstown, Paddy Grimes can rest assured that Nick will not have to go begging for action hereabouts.

Freemont Jolly is trying to land a capable opponent for Jack Munroe but in case he cannot do so, Jimmy Engle will toss punches with some other willing worker for the cause of pugilism.

"Frenchy," the guy who makes steaks out of cows, is in again—in fact he's always in when a good fight is on. He pens us a note concerning the missing that Dick Evans alias Dick Evans wrote concerning one Henry Piro, exponent of jabs to the nose and rights to the chin.

Judging from "Frenchy's" tone, as conveyed in the letter, he is a Piro man, first and last, unless George Perotta is in the scrap. He says so many nice things about Piro we wouldn't be surprised to hear of Piro giving him the boxing gloves after he takes 'em off and of hearing Dick Evans declare: "Frenchy, you're the bologna!"

But as Frenchy took the time to write the note, we'll take the pleasure of letting the Evans crowd see what kind of a man "Frenchy" thinks Piro is. Here goes:

New Castle, Feb. 14, 1929.

Friend Ed—After reading Dick Evans' letter in last night's News I sure had to take a big laugh. Of course you know I don't know much about fighting but my guess is that if Evans hears the bell after the tenth round he won't know whether he is in New Castle or Kalamazoo, Michigan!

If that Piro boy is "right" Monday night, Mr. Evans will think somebody threw him in a lion's den at some zoo, and he will also look the part. Personally I want to see the best man win but I CAN'T HELP BUT FEEL SORRY FOR DICK!

Give GEORGE PEROTTA A FEW MORE WEEKS OF FAITHFUL TRAINING and he can give either one of the above fighters a good whaling. "LIKE HIM." Let us have New Castle boys on every card. Good luck.

"FRENCHY."

That's that. "Frenchy" is down on paper now. He's committed himself. Just like Dick and Henry themselves. But that is the way they get nowadays. Every time a fan gets to see a fighter he goes for the bundle and in this case "Frenchy" may have to go as Ed Kline wrote over yesterday, asking a pointed question, "Shutty! Any Piro money in New Castle?"

Good luck.

The Abo Antelope

By QUIN HALL
He may not be quite as fleet of foot as he was in 1925 when he made his other visit to these shores, but Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish star, still seems to be able to show his heels over various distances to the pick of the country.

The Abo Antelope, who is here for another strenuous campaign, already has started showing the soles of his running slippers to the opposition and it begins to look as if his ambition to smash every mark from one to ten miles will be gratified. He started his American campaign by winning in a career at a trick distance of 3,000 yards.

When he chose that distance the rumor floated about that he merely selected that yardage in view of the fact that it was a new distance in the books and that he would be assured of at least another new record. Another rumor was to the effect that he chose the 3,000-yard distance because it is approximately one and three-quarter miles—in preparation for his onslaught of the one-mile record. When he becomes accustomed to taking the 3,000 yards at a fast clip, the mile will be much easier for his flying feet. The last rumor has a sound foundation and it indicates the smartness with which the Finn develops himself in seeking a new record.

Nurmi feels that he still has two years of speed left in his carcass. If he expects to make good his threat to smash every record from one to ten miles he realizes that he has no time to lose. He confidently believes that he can accomplish what he has set out to do and despite the fact that he has lost considerable hair since his last appearance here, the fans are beginning to believe it with him. Those who saw him run during the Olympics at Amsterdam last summer brought back word that he was not as fresh at the finish of the events in which he was entered as was his custom, and the fact that he retained only one of his four Olympic titles which he had won in Paris four years ago would indicate that he has slowed down to some degree, but he is still speedy enough to win a lot of races and he attracts tremendous crowds wherever he runs.

Nurmi's training methods are by no means orthodox. He quite often eats a lunch of pie and coffee and this alone would put a lot of trainers out on their ear with amazement. As likely as not the Finn eats such a combination on the day of an important track engagement, but he seems to knock over all of the competition, and if he enjoys pie and coffee, why not indulge?

The present plans of the Finn call for only a few indoor dates and he expects to hold most of his speed and stamina for a whirl wind outdoor campaign in the spring.

There were rumors before his arrival concerning the fact that he would turn professional when he reached New York, but he seems to enjoy his amateur ranking, and while he may turn pro eventually, it is doubtful. He is interested primarily now in breaking records, and he has one especially which he is vitally concerned about. He is anxious to establish a one-hour record that will never be equaled by his fellow men, or the men of the next ten or twenty generations.
